Egyptians-in-Poland Sensation Spurs New British War Plan

Nasser Believed Deeply Committed

LONDON (AP)—Britain disclosed Friday it has received secret information that a considerable number of Egyptian army officers and men are being trained by Russian military experts in Communist Poland.

A foreign office spokesman said the information must be considered in determining British Middle East policy.

At the same time Britain announced a new plan for swift action in the Middle East should war break out.

The Egyptian embassy here had no comment.

Other disclosures in government quarters suggested Egypt's military agreements with states of the Communist bloc are far-reaching. It was said that not only has Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser received large quantities of military equipment from Red Czechoslovakia but that expert training in the use of new weapons, at home and abroad, is fast making the Egyptian Army a formidable force.

At the foreign office it also was said that Czechoslovakia has set up a training centre for Egyptian pilots near Alexandria, Egypt.

LONDON (UP)—Britain formally announced Friday it has prepared a plan for swift military action in the Middle East in event of war between the Arabs and Israelis.

Disclosure of the "standby" plan was the firmest notice yet given by a western power that an Arab or Israeli aggression would be met by western force.

The British foreign office announcement of readiness to intervene was seen here as a measure of the gravity with which the western Big Three regard the Middle East war danger.

"We have worked out a plan which could be put rapidly into action when it is decided to do so," a foreign office spokesman said.

"It is hoped that action, if necessary, could be taken within the United Nations."

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Big Three western foreign ministers will meet in Paris in May to plan joint strategy for dealing with the Middle East crisis, diplomatic sources reported yesterday.

The talks are expected to centre mainly on what action the western allies should take if the Arab-Israel dispute erupts into full-scale war.

A 1950 declaration commits the United States, Britain and France to guard both the Arabs and Israelis against aggression by the other.

LONDON (AP)—Britain said Friday it will continue to support Jordan's armed forces and bolster the Arab kingdom's economy in 1956-57.

There had been speculation that Prime Minister Eden's government might cut off its subsidies to Jordan in retaliation for King Hussein's dismissal of British Lt.-Gen. Sir John Glubb as commander of Jordan's army, the Arab Legion, March 1.

But foreign office civil estimates published yesterday disclosed a grant in aid to Jordan of £9,158,000, mainly for the Arab Legion and the Jordan home guard. The sum is £42,000 less than Britain gave Jordan for the same purpose last year.

Sparks Cougar Win

NELSON BULLOCH

One of the brightest stars for Victoria Cougars last night when they defeated the Canucks at Vancouver, 3-2, to take the lead in the round-robin playoff series in the Western Division of the Western Hockey League was Nelson Bulloch. The rookie defenceman scored one goal, set up the other two, and almost clicked several other times. "You should have seen that Bulloch go," Cougar-coach Eddie Olson said after the game. ## One Badly Hurt

School Bus Hurls Boys From Door

LAKE COWICHAN—An eight-year-old Honeymoon Bay boy was seriously injured and another slightly hurt yesterday after they were thrown to the road when the emergency door of their school bus suddenly popped open.

Bobby Gunderson, suffering from an "extensive skull fracture," and his companion, Billy Janyk, 8, also of Honeymoon Bay, were thrown from the bus on South Shore road two miles west of Lake Cowichan on their way home from school.

RCMP at Lake Cowichan said the bus, carrying more than 30 children, did not appear to be going very fast at the time.

The pair were sitting beside the emergency door on the left rear of the bus when it flew open.

Officials at King's Daughters' Hospital at Duncan described the Gunderson boy's condition as critical late last night. The Janyk boy was treated for abrasions and shock and later released.

City Woman Wins . . . . . Freedom from Trances

Court Order Halts Hypnotic Love Spell

A divorced husband who hired a woman hypnotist to help him win back his beautiful wife lost out here yesterday when the wife won a Supreme Court ruling ordering the man and the hypnotist to stop interfering with her.

The court order was granted after presentation of startling evidence that the wife "apparently in a trance" was being led to a phone to speak to the husband when a private detective burst into the hypnotist's heavily perfumed hotel room and shattered the trance with a kiss.

Soon after, the hypnotist, Mrs. Dorothy Westlake of Vancouver, nearly hypnotized a policeman called in to investigate the matter.

Mrs. Helen E. Cooper, 887 Cowper, was granted an order restraining Thomas A. Cooper, of Vancouver, and Mrs. Westlake, from "interfering or committing trespass in any way" by themselves or their agents.

AFFIDAVITS FILED

Mrs. Cooper, divorced from her husband in 1951 and given custody of two children, filed affidavits on behalf of herself, private investigator Conrad Watling, 2040 Chaucer, who posed as her boy friend, and Saanich policeman Robin Stewart.

The affidavits related experiences that began for Mrs. Cooper over a cup of coffee with Mrs. Westlake and ended in the perfumed third floor Empress Hotel room March 13.

The affidavits were filed by counsel David Sloan. Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson granted the requested injunction.

Since the divorce her husband has continually annoyed her by telephone calls and by calls through people in his employ, "particularly Mrs. D. Westlake," Mrs. Cooper said in her affidavit.

On March 13 a blond woman entered the store where Mrs. Cooper is employed, identifying herself as a hypnotist from Toronto who wanted to buy furniture.

HYPNOTIST'S STORY

Mrs. Westlake said: "A friend had suggested that if she was in Victoria she should contact Miss ——, my maiden name and the one I work under at the store," Mrs. Cooper said.

Over a cup of coffee they arranged to further discuss a furniture deal in Mrs. Westlake's hotel room that night, with the latter requesting she come alone, Mrs. Cooper added.

"I felt something was not right," she said in her affidavit. Investigator Watling was called to check the story and found that the woman had arrived by

Free Asia Red Bar Says Dulles

WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said last night the United States must help Asian nations in their fight for freedom and independence if it does not want Communists to take over.

Warning that Russia and Red China are "stirring up hatred" in Asia, Dulles said he is convinced that freedom will prevail in the Far East if "we worthily play our part." He called for increased U.S. efforts to industrialize free Asian nations.

Dulles spoke out strongly against "colonialism." He said Asians are determined that their future lies in "independence, not domination."

The "clearest single impression" from his trip was that Asia wants United States help along the road to freedom and independence." He said they seek a "protective umbrella" against Red aggression—without any taint of colonialism.

Dulles said Formosa presents the greatest threat of open warfare "at the moment."

Meanwhile in Washington, The Netherlands complained to the state department about statements made by Dulles last week in Indonesia.

Dulles, in a press conference there, expressed sympathy for the young republic of Indonesia, and The Netherlands interpreted his remarks as anti-Dutch.

Dutch ambassador J. H. Van Roijen registered his government's shock at Dulles' statements.

Unconscious Road Victim Still Critical

Four-year-old Doreen Sanders, 236 Cadillac, was still unconscious and in critical condition in Royal Jubilee Hospital late last night.

She was injured in a collision with a car last Sunday outside Centennial United church on Gorge road.

Historians Hit By Red Army

MOSCOW (Reuters)—The Soviet Army newspaper Red Star Friday attacked "the vicious and harmful practice" of Russian war historians in "exaggerating successes and concealing shortcomings in actions of Soviet troops."

Bomb Plea Rejected

WASHINGTON (UP) — The United States last night rejected a Japanese plea that it suspend its forthcoming atomic tests in the Pacific.

In a formal note to Japan, the state department said the U.S. is convinced the tests "are vital to its own defence and the free world."

It agreed, however, to give "further consideration" to compensation if any official evidence is received after the tests of "substantial economic losses" by Japan or any of its people.

The Japanese request was prompted by results of the big hydrogen bomb test explosion March 1, 1954, in which more than a score of Japanese fishermen were dusted with radioactive "fallout." One of them later died.

FO JAMES E. MILLER

Force of 500 Men Seeks Lost Airmen

Some 500 land, sea and air searchers will step up operations in northern part of the Strait of Georgia today in hopes of finding two airmen, one from Victoria, who vanished in their T-33 jet trainer Thursday.

Planes, ships and ground workers covered more than 8,000 square miles from Vancouver Island to the mainland yesterday, concentrating on Cortes island, where 12 persons heard a loud explosion Thursday morning.

Missing are FO James E. Miller, 23, former Victorian and son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Miller, 1207 Union road, and FO Gerald Stubbs, 32, formerly of Winnipeg. Their plane vanished during a routine training flight.

Sqdn. Ldr. George Shehan of the Comox air base, search leader, said 11 RCAF aircraft from Vancouver and five from Comox would divide their time today between strait islands, and mainland and Vancouver Island points 100 miles apart.

Air force air and ground crews will number more than 200 men. Another 100 men will take part in the sea hunt and the Ground Observer Corps has sent 100 persons for land searches.

Icy Valor Saves Dog From Death

GLACE BAY, N. S. (CP)—A dog strayed out on Glace Bay harbor drift ice, became trapped between ice cakes and thrashed about in the water until exhausted.

Bystanders watched as policemen Urban Brown and Bernie Clarke prepared to shoot the helpless animal.

Then fisherman Tom Chislett, disdaining the protests of onlookers, took off his shirt.

He walked over the ice until it broke under him, swam in bone-chilling water to the floundering dog and brought it ashore.

Defence Cuts Predicted As Pre-Election Dodge

OTTAWA (CP) — A CCF member predicted in the Commons Friday that next year — when a federal general election is expected—the government will make "a very large" cut in defence spending.

"And we shall be told then, of course," said Colin Cameron, Nanaimo, "that there has been a tremendous change in the international climate."

"We shall be told that the cold war is warming up."

Mr. Cameron said Britain now is facing the fact it is impossible for her to develop effective defences.

"Her only hope is to develop a real and effective disarmament program in the world." Canada might find herself in the same position.

Mr. Cameron joined J. M. Macdonnell, Progressive Conservative financial critic, and CCF leader Coldwell in criticizing defence spending during debate on the new budget.

The budget outlined last Tuesday night by Finance Minister Harris was "singularly devoid of information," Mr. Cameron said.

He suspected, too, Mr. Harris was aware that within the next year Dr. O. M. Solandt, former chairman of the Defence Research Board, "or some other eminent person will put another banana peel underneath the defence program of Canada."

He apparently referred to Dr. Solandt's recent statement that intercontinental ballistics missiles will obviate the three early warning radar lines now being built across this country by Canada and the United States. Dr. Solandt said the missile likely would be developed effectively within 15 years.

Mr. Cameron said this "banana peel" would disclose that "all these incredible quantities of money and labor that we have been dedicating to defence are, in fact, money and effort down the drain."

Reds Reported Busy In Canada's Forces

VANCOUVER (CP) — Labor leader Tom Alsbury told an audience of RCAF personnel here Thursday night that communists are carrying on subversive activities within the Canadian armed forces "at this very moment."

Mr. Alsbury, president of Vancouver Trades and Labor Council (TLC) and principal of Fairview high school of commerce, was speaking at Sea Island RCAF station. He said:

"Communists carried on subversive activities in the Canadian army in the Second World War. Of that we have ample proof. And they are doing it this very minute.

"If war or some other national emergency comes, the Reds are ready to fight on two major fronts—military and industrial.

"The Reds have penetrated the Canadian armed forces where party members are already in uniform, taking instructions directly from the party and reporting secretly their progress and successes."

Mr. Alsbury said these were not merely his opinions, but could be verified in official records.

Time Running Out On Escaped Klaus

WINNIPEG (CP) — Residents of suburban St. James are going out in full force in an effort to capture Klaus, the crazy crow that has been on the loose since last Sunday.

Klaus' owner, Mrs. Edith Rassmussen, said she was worried about reports that her pet has started to swear. At district residents, something "we certainly never taught him to do. I don't know where he learnec to swear."

With her husband Hans, daughter Karen, 16, and friends and neighbors, she will attempt to capture the bird that has been hanging around a St. James school since it left home.

A truck and ladder will be used in the operation.

Sunday Colonist Carries . . . . . Reports of Irish Probe

'The Truth About Bridey' Begins Tomorrow

Early this year, a series of articles on "The Search for Bridey Murphy" had readers of The Daily Colonist talking about hypnotism and reincarnation.

Later, as a book by Morey Bernstein, Bridey Murphy shot through eight printings and more than 170,000 copies, and 30,000 long-playing records of the actual tape recordings made by Mr. Bernstein and "Bridey" (Mrs. Ruth Simmons) have been sold.

In addition Hollywood has bought the book for $50,000; and hardly a comedy program on television is complete without some joke about Bridey Murphy.

Now an outstanding newspaper reporter, William J. Barker of The Denver Post, is back from Ireland and his own search for Bridey Murphy.

His series of articles, "The Truth About Bridey Murphy," begins tomorrow in The Sunday Colonist.

There is also good reading set for The Islander, Sunday magazine of the Colonist.

Featured article is the three-page story of the School of Music at HMCS Naden, where all RCN bandsmen are trained.

Cecil Clark tells the interesting story of the cattle and horse brands of British Columbia's own "West," a type of heraldry that goes far back into the province's history.

G. E. Mortimore's profile subject, and an interesting one, too, is Major Carl Fallis. Another highlight of the 16-page Island magazine is the article on the Horseshoe Bay Inn at Chemainus, where such interesting tycoons as Rockefeller and Carnegie have been guests.

The daily paper with complete news and feature coverage, the magazine, and the 16-page comic supplement make a perfect 66-page package of weekend reading.

ALL ABOARD

With G. E. Mortimore

SOME years ago there was a best-selling book called "I Can Get It For You Wholesale."

I never read the book. But the title reminds me of some clever friends who always know the short cut the right man to see, the way to get the best deal.

They keep a shrewd eye open for bargains of every kind. If they want to buy a car, they find one that really was driven by a careful old lady once a month.

They bought a used deep-freeze, nearly as good as new, from a man they just happened to know. They arranged to get a supply of vegetables, wholesale, from a farmer.

As a result, they live well for about 20 per cent less than the average budget.

They are kindly, generous people. But when they go horse-trading for some item of domestic use, they drive a keen bargain, while preserving a friendly atmosphere.

* * *

The lady of the house goes from store to store, comparing prices, and yet never seems to rouse ill will. In fact, she is on such good terms with some store people that they phone to tip her off about bargain goods.

Many people are too lazy to work hard at reducing their cost of living. They follow the line of least resistance, and spend the rest of the time complaining about their hard luck.

But my friends go at the task in a methodical way: seeking bargains, growing and preserving their own food, fixing their own machinery when they can.

They are dwellers in the suburbs, not farmers, and neither of them are native to this country. But they have acquired or inherited some of the pioneer spirit that so many people talk about and so few people have.

Together with the pioneer spirit goes the art of bargain-seeking, comparative marketing.

People such as my friends are the ones who really keep the competitive system going. We slack people who don't check carefully on prices—we let merchants get away with commercial murder. But as long as there are people like my friends, who can find a lower price somewhere else, free enterprise is safe.

Conviction Appealed

'The Fight Goes On', Says Negro Pastor

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)— A convicted leader in the Negro boycott of city buses here has pledged to continue the fight against segregation "no matter how many times" he is convicted of violating Alabama's anti-boycott law.

Rev. Martin Luther King was convicted Thursday of violating the boycott law and fined $500. Thursday night the 27-year-old Baptist pastor vowed at a mass meeting to continue fighting for "justice and equality" and to keep on in a leading role in the protest movement.

King has been prominent in the winter - long campaign against segregated seating on city buses, and Negroes here generally are expected to prolong their mass protest despite King's conviction.

The fine assessed against King was suspended after his defence served notice of an appeal. The lawyers said they would take the appeal all the way to the United States Supreme Court if necessary in another test of segregation laws in the southern states.

Pastor King told his Negro audience that "freedom doesn't come on a silver platter."

"GROWING PAINS"

"Some of the things we have to go through are a necessary part of our campaign. There can never be growth without growing pains."

He was given an ovation.

In addition to the $500 fine, King was charged with court costs of approximately $500. This was converted into a jail sentence totalling about 386 days, since he chose to appeal rather than pay the money. He is free on bail meanwhile.

The conviction was announced by Judge Eugene Carter at the end of a four-day trial. The state of the other defendants pending then agreed to postpone the trials King's appeal.

Hypnotic Love Spell Ruse Stopped by Court Order

plane from Vancouver the same day.

Watling, posing as a boy friend "Con," accompanied Mrs. Cooper to the hotel room and then left after saying he had to make a call. The affidavit said Mrs. Westlake told him: "Don't worry, you are leaving her in good hands."

"I hope so," replied Watling.

Mrs. Westlake, dressed in lounging pyjamas, was in a room "almost overpowering with the scent of perfume and very warm," the affidavit said. Mrs. Cooper was told "perhaps a drink would relax you."

DRINK SPILLED

Mrs. Cooper stated she learned from Mrs. Westlake that she (Mrs. Westlake) had come from England, passed through Toronto and left Vancouver for Victoria because of the climate. She said she had just remarried her husband and expected him to arrive the next day.

As they discussed the furniture deal in the hotel room, a drink was fixed and spilled on Mrs. Cooper's dress — intentionally she thought.

Changing into lounging pyjamas, on Mrs. Westlake's suggestion, she "felt a sense of relaxation" on being told by a soft voice she was comfortable. Lights were dim and a radio was playing, the affidavit said.

Mrs. Westlake spoke of personal affairs. She said she herself was in love with six different men all at the same time, while married to her husband. She could control them because she had power over them.

Mrs. Westlake said she was going to give the power to three women, but retain control of them. Then she would be able to run the country as "women at all times are stronger than men."

Mrs. Cooper said she received several telephone calls from Watling during the evening and was instructed by Mrs. Westlake on her answers.

"SITTER" ARRANGED

She said she arranged on Mrs. Westlake's urging for a babysitter to stay all night with her family and also telephoned "Con" that she would be late but was fine, Mrs. Cooper stated in the affidavit.

She said that while she (Mrs. Cooper) was in a state of trance Mrs. Westlake telephoned and said:

"Mr. Cooper, this is Madame Westlake. You do not know me but I have Mrs. Cooper here with me and she would like to speak to you."

Conrad Watling, who said he heard this conversation while in the hall listening through an open transom, entered the room. Mrs. Cooper "appeared in a hypnotic trance."

He said she was told she would awaken when kissed by a "Prince Charming." Mrs. Westlake motioned to him and he kissed Mrs. Cooper, Watling stated.

The investigator said he telephoned Mrs. Cooper's friends, one of whom was a nurse who suggested she was drugged. He said he spoke to several doctors who said nothing could be done and that Mrs. Cooper would "come normal in time."

PAID $120

Constable Stewart said he was accompanied by Constable Burdyny when Madame Westlake was interviewed in the hotel about 2 a.m. March 14. He said Mrs. Westlake told them Mrs. Cooper was not drugged but hypnotized and that she had been paid $120 by Mr. Cooper, "which won't even cover my expenses."

Constable Stewart said he and Constable Burdyny refused an invitation to be hypnotized but suggested himself that Mrs. Westlake demonstrate her actions with a chair.

She turned to him and told him to look at her right eye. "You will see two large rings round it."

"I looked at her right eye and I saw rings around her eye." When she said you will see a mist between them, "I said, stop it, I believe you," Const. Stewart said.

She told them she was licenced to practice hypnotism and ran a home for alcoholics in Vancouver.

"I will keep trying and trying to get Helen and her husband together. I was too close to success to let it go," the constable quoted Mrs. Westlake as saying.

Garden Notes

'Glad' Lovely But No Mixer

By M. V. CHESNUT, FRHS

I love glads. To my mind they are one of the most beautiful and delicate-looking of all flowers, and most certainly they are the easiest to grow of all fine flowers. Yet, in spite of all these fine qualities, I will not give gladiolus any room in my flower beds out front.

You see, the gladiolus is not a very good flower for the embellishment of the garden. It doesn't mix very well with other flowers, for one thing, and it becomes untidy and bedraggled-looking as the lower flowers die.

Moreover, each individual plant is in bloom for only a short time—a week or 10 days at the most—before the lower florets turn brown and the whole plant begins to look like death warmed over. Yet I grow a lot of glads every year—in the backyard — for there isn't a finer flower for cutting purposes and for indoor decoration.

GROW IN ROWS

The ideal way to grow them is in rows in the vegetable patch out back, to provide bouquets and material for flower arrangements in the house, just as you grow cabbages for the kitchen. Grown in this way, they can be given routine cultivation, weeding and hoeing, along with the carrots and the peas, and the fading flowers and foliage won't make your home look like a scene out of "Tobacco Road" as it turns yellow in the fall.

The one dominant need of the gladiolus is water—lots of water—and because the galloping of the water meter in the basement when the hose is running always gives me a bad case of palpitation of the wallet, I grow my glads in trenches, so they can be irrigated without waste.

I take out a trench, the width of my spade and about eight inches deep, and mix peat moss and bone meal into the soil at the bottom of the trench. I find an excellent tool for this mixing job is one of those three or five-pronged cultivators. This leaves the trench bottom nice and loose, while the peat moss gives a beautiful velvety texture to the soil.

SINGLE LINE

I plant my bulbs in a single line in the bottom of the trench, just bedding them down in the loose soil, and spacing them eight inches apart. Then I fill the trench to within three inches of the top, which leaves a depression for easy watering.

Later on in the season, when the spikes are forming, the trenches are filled in to provide more support and to do away with the need for staking. If more than one row is grown, the trenches should be kept a good three feet apart to make for easy cultivation and to give you enough room to move around among the plants without breaking any precious stalks.

DIFFERENT VARIETIES

The real glad fan ensures a long succession of cut flowers by choosing carefully different varieties which bloom early, mid-season and late in the fall. For the novice gardener without this specialized knowledge the best plan is to plant a few bulbs as early as weather and soil conditions will permit, and follow this up with more plantings spaced about 10 days apart, right through until late June.

In this way you get a steady supply of cut flowers for the house all through the late summer and fall. If you planted all your bulbs in one planting you would have more blooms than you could use for a couple of weeks, and then — boom! No more glads until next year.

Civic Plan Explained

Development of the council-manager plan of civic government was explained yesterday at a convention luncheon of the B.C. branch of the Canadian Credit Men's Trust Association at the Empress Hotel.

Guests at the luncheon included Mayor Percy Scurrah of Victoria, Reeve Arthur Ash of Saanich and Reeve Fred Norris of Oak Bay.

At convention sessions, which concluded yesterday, some 300 delegates discussed government tightening of bank credit and

French Order Social Reform For Algeria

ALGIERS (AP)—The French government ordered economic and social reforms for restive Algeria.

The measures are aimed to raise living standards of the Algerian Arabs and thus ease some of the pressure behind a nationalist revolt against French rule.

They were adopted by Premier Guy Mollet's cabinet, sitting in Paris. For one thing, the cabinet empowered Resident-Minister Robert Lacoste to distribute untilled land to jobless farmhands.

Other decrees will increase the number of native Algerians employed by businesses receiving state aid and provide loans to farmers and farm co-operatives in this North African territory which the French regard as constitutionally a part of France.

Fighting went on in both Algeria and in Tunisia, the protectorate to the east which France promised Tuesday will be given autonomy.

PURSUE REBELS

Sketchy reports from the southern Tunisian desert indicated French troops still were pursuing a band of dissident tribesmen estimated to total as high as 3,000.

Without revealing their own losses, the French said 86 rebels are known to have been killed since Wednesday. Artillery and planes backed up the infantry.

In Algeria, military authorities said 47 rebels were killed Thursday and 17 civilians, including an Italian farm worker, were slain in isolated attacks. Official reports mentioned only five French casualties—two soldiers killed and three wounded in a skirmish in the mountainous Kabylie region of northeast Algeria.

French authorities said the five Frenchmen were in a patrol that stumbled across a rebel stronghold that looked like a native home. By their account:

The place turned out to be a blockhouse with double, dirt-filled walls, and a considerable store of munitions. It held out for four hours. Then the French moved up artillery and blasted through the walls. Fifteen rebels were killed there and four captured.

Cypriots' Bomb Fires U.S. Car

NICOSIA, Cyprus (UP)—Extremists set fire to the car of a U.S. consulate employee in Kyrenia, government authorities reported Friday.

It was the first Cypriot attack on American property since circulation of press reports that the U.S. and Britain are united on the Cyphus issue.

Investigators said the fire last night was apparently started by a "Molotov cocktail"—a flaming bottle of gasoline—which was hurled at the vehicle.

The flames were doused before the car was seriously damaged.

In a similar incident, an English woman who left her car outside the Athinadion school at Limassol yesterday lated found it completely burned.

British paratroopers today moved out of the palace of Archbishop Makarios, the exiled leader of union-with-Greece movement, and the bells in the palace tower rang out a few minutes later as priests of Greek Orthodox Catholic church moved in.

NICOSIA (Reuters)—A British judge Friday sentenced three Greek-Cypriot youths to life imprisonment for carrying firearms, after pointing out that he was being lenient in not sentencing them to death.

The sentences were imposed under emergency regulations laid down by Governor Sir John Harding who has vowed to end nearly a year of anti-British violence by Greek-Cypriots who demand that strategic Mediterranean island be united with Greece.

The three youths were caught carrying arms last month. They quickly surrendered when challenged by British troops, and did not open fire.

"In consideration of this fact," Judge Bernard Shaw declared, "I will not sentence you to death."

British security forces continued a search through the island for the man two days ago planted a time mob in Harding's bed. Harding on Thursday fired all his Greek-Cypriot servants —one of whom had already been reported missing.

$100,000 in Balance In Insurance Case

TORONTO (CP)—Judgment was reserved Friday on whether an alleged delay in payment of a $1,092 insurance premium will cost a beneficiary $100,000.

The late James C. White, a former Progressive Conservative member of the Ontario legislature for Kenora who shot himself a few hours before he was to face fraud charges, took out the $100,000 policy in April, 1951. He died May 14, 1952.

The policy was payable to Norman F. Firth of Hamilton, at that time vice-president of the insurance company he has taken to court — Western Life Assurance Company. It was to be paid if White died before a five-year period had passed.

The money was not paid, said the company, because the premium, due April 13, or May 13 allowing a month's grace, was not paid.

Mr. Firth said he sent a cheque for the premium on the day of White's death, but it was returned. He is appealing the company's dismissal on the grounds the effective date of the policy was April 30, 1951, when it was delivered, not April 13.

White, a timber merchant, died shortly before he was scheduled to face 24 criminal charges of fraud involving $78,000 in mining stocks and pulp-and-paper deals.

Vast Racket Floods U.S. with Chinese

WASHINGTON (AP) — The fantastic details of a vast passport racket involving the sale of U. S. citizenship documents to thousands of alien Chinese by Hong Kong "brokers" were disclosed Friday by a House of Representatives appropriations committee report.

According to state department testimony the racket has poured thousands of Chinese — including suspected Communists agents — into the United States on the instalment plan. The terms: $500 down and a $2,500 balance payable upon arrival in the United States.

To smash what was described as "an exceedingly serious situation" two high state department officers asked the sub-committee for $512,312 in additional funds for the consulate-general in Hong Kong.

This would permit an increase of 118 investigators, virtually doubling the consulate's size.

Consul - General Everett F. Drumwright in Hong Kong reported that "if ignorant applicants can be brought into the United States under this highly organized fraud system, it is obvious that Chinese Red agents can be so brought in."

If all the Chinese claiming birth in San Francisco before the 1906 fire and earthquake had actually been born there, every Chinese female then in the United States would necessarily have given birth to 800 children.

Islamic Republic of Pakistan

JOSEPH CONRAD'S gracious tribute to Great Britain as "the mothership of nations" must have come to the minds of some yesterday as Pakistan officially assumed its new destiny as a republic within the Commonwealth. Canada sent formal congratulations to Major-General Iskander Mirza, former governor-general and first president of the new republic, in a cordial cable from Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent. Fifty envoys of world states, including Canada's own representative, attended the spectacular ceremony at Karachi, where the wish of the Pakistan Constituent Assembly expressed by vote last month became a reality. The Islamic Republic of Pakistan has equal status with every member nation of the Commonwealth.

Mr. St. Laurent's cable to Pakistan's first president put the situation well. It read in part: "We are most happy that Pakistan has expressed its intention to continue its full membership as a Commonwealth nation, and we in Canada look forward to many years of friendly and fruitful co-operation. . . ."

So a nation's destiny is shaped through its own action and of its own accord, retaining an honored place in the roster of free and independent states which pool their strengths within the same broad Commonwealth. Some 80,000,000 people, chiefly Moslems, have chosen their stand in the modern world. They are a brave people. On many a field of action where human freedom was at stake the stalwart men of Pakistan stood alongside those of Canada and every part of the Commonwealth in resisting tyranny. That record shines, and is today a gratifying part of the sincere friendship which Canada's Prime Minister so well expressed.

Useful Job for Public Trucks

A NECESSARY warning has been given by the city parks administrator, Mr. Warren, about dangers in burning rooted-out hedges killed by last November's unseasonable frost. Cypress in particular, like dried-out Christmas trees, ignites with almost explosive rapidity; and fires even when lit in the open can get out of hand if great care is not taken to avoid piling too much material onto the blaze at once.

The risk of garden fires getting out of control is only one aspect of the disheartening program of hedge and shrub removal that is going on throughout residential Victoria this spring. Smoke nuisance is another. Laden with ash and sparks, the dense smoke from bonfires can ruin a line of washing, soil stucco, damage paintwork, and seep through open doors and windows to cause much extra work for housewives. It is a nuisance also that is liable to continue for weeks, reappearing with every return of fine weather.

To overcome this a woman reader has phoned in an interesting suggestion: that haulage concerns arrange pick-up services for a limited period—on a charge basis, of course—so that all or most of the burnable material could be removed to the garbage wharf or disposed of at some central location where fire would cause little bother. No doubt many householders would be glad to pay for the convenience, whereas on an individual hire arrangement the cost might be too heavy.

As an alternative, might it not be possible for city and municipal trucks to be put to work on this for a week or so, at a nominal fee to cover cost of running? The situation this year is abnormal, and an official pick-up program would be a public service not only to gardeners with much dead growth to be got rid of somehow, but also to the many more householders who would be saved smoke damage and nuisance.

An Uneasy Herald

A STORM has brewed in England with the arrival in London of the Soviet secret police chief, Ivan Serov, to make security arrangements for the forthcoming visit to the United Kingdom of Premier Bulganin and Communist party secretary Nikita Khrushchev. Courtesy to visitors is so traditional over there, even if expressed only by reticence rather than acclaimed welcome, that the reaction of certain leading newspapers in vehemently assailing Serov is evidence of the deep feeling involved. It is no less than astonishing to have a journal like the Manchester Guardian, one of the world's most respected newspapers, bluntly headline a request to him to "go home."

Serov has a standing reputation as a ruthless Communist responsible for carrying out repressive measures in Russia, but even so the attacks on him are revealing, since he is in London merely to pave the way for his superiors. The Eden government must be filled with misgiving and probably regret that Bulganin and Khrushchev are to visit Britain. The invitation to them was extended at the height of the "Geneva smile" period and it could scarcely be withdrawn as this mood quickly wore off. Far from improving relations between the two countries, however, it now looks as though the visit will take place in an atmosphere liable to create considerable embarrassment.

Much may depend on the behavior of Mr. Khrushchev, the bouncing but wily extrovert who seemingly rules the roost in Moscow. If he repeats his India and Burma indiscretions—directed this time perhaps against the United States in the usual studied endeavor to create difficulties in Western circles—he is not likely to go unanswered. The reaction to Serov has made it plain that the British press will not allow protocol to give the Soviet leaders free rein to make trouble, as they do wherever they travel. Certainly the reception accorded to the Serov advance guard is not a promising herald of what might eventuate. It reinforces the belief that states had better think twice before they offer to Communist chiefs the kind of invitation normal to national leaders of other lands.

A Grievance To Fit

Every occasion of an imagined grievance is not an excuse for writing a fresh provincial statute. Like Mr. Gregory, we believe the legislation (B.C. Fair Employment Practices Act) unnecessary in this province. Like him, we incline to the view that all a government needs to do to create an undesirable situation is to pass legislation prohibiting it. The matter of racial discrimination will not be helped but harmed by this piece of legislation.

The legislation belongs to that body of laws, increasing these days, which offers a fertile field for action for political troublemakers. Simply establish a grievance and if there is a law against it the courts cannot deny you.

What evidence did the government's department of labor have to inspire this anti-discrimination law, so deceptive in its intent as to fool almost every B.C. legislator but one, himself a lawyer?

—COWICHAN LEADER

The Department's Job

We learned last week that the department of education and the school trustees here are concerned over the absences requested by students for participation in organized functions, such as sports and cultural festivals, which are held in school periods.

It falls, however, to the trustees to work on the difficult task of solving the problem and then perhaps perform the unpleasant task of curtailing these popular activities.

If the department is concerned, as the schools inspector says, then it is the department which should undertake the task of correcting the situation.

—COMOX FREE PRESS

B.C.'s Floral Emblem

The Floral Emblem Act was of particular interest to all who love nature and the great outdoors, as it officially designated the Dogwood as the official floral emblem of this province.

Now that the status of this lovely flowering tree has been proclaimed, the provincial government might be well advised to encourage its cultivation, particularly along our scenic highways. It might be possible, through the Forest Service, to advise B.C. residents on the proper method of transplanting shoots, or to make more cuttings available.

—PARKSVILLE-QUALICUM PROGRESS

Centenary Library

Nanaimo has numerous commitments ahead and cannot take on too much all at once. Nevertheless, the principle of a new library in recognition of, and as a tribute to, the B.C. centenary of two years hence, is good, indeed could hardly be improved upon. Nanaimo's present public library building at Wallace and Fitzwilliam streets is too small and wholly inadequate generally. The financial side of a new library building would be eased, of course, if provincial grants are to be made to municipalities by way of commemorating the centennial.

—NANAIMO FREE PRESS

Importance of Water

There's a very significant petition circulating in Central Saanich these days for a program which would see the water mains of the Greater Victoria water district extended northward from the northern borders of Saanich Municipality. Here is a very farsighted move.

The effect on the economy of the entire south of Vancouver Island would be tremendous. The provincial government, quite properly, is planning to provide up to $10,000,000 for the beautification of British Columbia's capital. We are confident that Premier Bennett, if the facts are put before him and a sensible appeal is sounded, will provide provincial funds for the financing of a major extension of water services to the northern end of the peninsula.

What will be the overnight result? A dozen homes will rise where only one stands today. Taxes paid to the provincial government, directly and indirectly, will skyrocket. The heavy capital investment will shortly be repaid and the original debt paid off.

Worth Trial

Gerald Waring

By FRANK KELLEY

ACCORDING to Canadian Press dispatches under an Ottawa dateline recently, a British Columbia native community has become the first in Canada to seek enfranchisement under the laws of the Dominion and be subject to the same regulations of citizenship as their brethren of other communities enjoy federally. And why not? There is nothing incongruous in such an appeal. Nor is it hard to imagine the Indian Act could be made a bit more flexible than it is without upsetting the status quo constitutionally.

At that, it is not strange that an appeal of this nature should come from the village of Metlakatla, which the press stories stated is a small reservation near Prince Rupert. No doubt the committee which has been appointed to look into the qualifications of the Metlakatlans for full emancipation will find much to warrant a more or less close study of the Canada-wide relationship existing between the descendants of the original occupants of the land and the confiscators of their ancient rights to the same land.

British Columbians familiar with the native story and the ability of the Indian to acquire the white man's know-how when coached conscientiously will agree, especially if acquainted with the story of two Metlakatlas. As strange as any fiction could be, members of this Tsimpshean tribe have lived the part of fine citizens in two locations. The story is true.

The Tsimpsheans of 100 years ago demonstrated that when taught by the right teacher they could do just about anything well. Thereby hangs a tale.

* * *

As the result of a report made by a British naval officer to the Church Missionary Society of the British Isles following a tour of duty in 1854, in which he described the deplorable conditions in Indian villages there, he convinced his leaders the "field" might prove a fertile one. Volunteers were sought, a young Yorkshireman was sent to New Caledonia as a lay missionary. In his memoirs William Duncan states he found himself near Port Simpson among 2,300 Tsimpsheans.

A zealot within limits, he worked wonders. To make a long story short he taught them many things in addition to the Bible—how to cultivate the ground and to use tools, in which they became expert. By 1861 Duncan and followers had moved to a new location, named it Metlakatla, built their own homes and a fine church. At that time his followers numbered 1,000, had their own carpenter and blacksmith shops, a water-powered sawmill, were exporting fish products to Victoria, had been taught to play musical instruments and had a fine brass band, which toured coast villages now and then.

It came about, however, that differences of opinion over church rituals by 1887 forced Duncan and his followers to appeal to U.S. authorities for some land in Alaska on which to settle. Their wishes were granted. They were given rights to Annette Island and there New Metlakatla was started.

There one was privileged to see in 1925 what Duncan (he died in 1918) and his followers had wrought. There was a well-laid-out community, administered solely by natives. There were more than 100 two and one-story homes, two churches, a large community hall, several stores, a sawmill and large cannery plant, fleet of fishing boats, planked streets and fire hydrants conveniently placed. Maybe Metlakatla near Prince Rupert wants to do likewise. Maybe they can if encouraged. It is time the Indian Act was rewritten, anyway.

Reports from Ottawa

THE old fear that we will find our destiny as "hewers of wood and drawers of water" for the Americans seems to be entering a new period of resurgence not unconnected with the fact that a federal election is due next year.

Conservative leader Drew recently gave the country a souped-up version of the wood-and-water refrain which looks very much like a trial balloon for a plank in the 1957 Tory platform.

Drew told the Toronto Canadian Club March 12 that Canada's future would be endangered "if we permit financial control of a large part of our raw material production to be held in the United States, and adopt no positive measures for the conservation of those resources and the encouragement of secondary industry." He warned against "a tremendous expansion of employment in the U.S. based upon the use of our raw materials, while relatively few advantages were gained by Canadians."

CCF leader Coldwell expressed similar views in a radio speech March 2 in which he asked, "Why should we ship out our raw materials and buy them back processed to the extent we are now doing? Should we not use our vast and rich resources for the benefit of the people whose heritage they are?"

* * *

Long-term American investment in Canada totals about $10,000,000,000. A confidential report by a large American investment house says U.S. capital controls 44 per cent of Canadian industry. A statement by the labor unions to the Gordon commission says U.S. dollars make up 90 per cent of foreign investment in mining and smelting, and that iron, nickel, aluminum, copper, asbestos and oil "are under effective U.S. control."

American dollars help develop, strengthen and diversify the Canadian economy. Many are channeled into activities for which Canadian investment dollars are lacking either because of preoccupation elsewhere or because of the risk.

Moreover, American dollars help our accounts with the U.S. Last year we had a payment deficit with the U.S. of more than a billion dollars, due mainly to skyrocketing imports. New U.S. capital helped make it up.

For these reasons the government officially welcomes U.S. capital.

* * *

The opposition's misgivings boil down to concern lest American investment endanger our economic independence and weaken our political independence. These fears were stated strongly by both Drew and Coldwell in the Commons last week, when they opposed the Trans-Canada gas pipeline plan on the ground that it would give Americans control of the line.

The general proposition of Drew and Coldwell vis-a-vis resources and U.S. capital points up a very real dilemma. Curbing either raw material exports or the inflow of U.S. capital would almost certainly have to be matched by action to reduce imports from the U.S.

Among the likely results would be a weakening of multilateral trade and a reduction in our standard of living. Nobody wants these results, so the politicians are sticking pretty closely to their wood-and-water appeal, without being very clear on what they'd do if they were in power.

They may succeed, however, in creating an uneasiness that to the extent that we are basing our present prosperity on U.S. investment dollars, we are living on money obtained by mortgaging the country's future to the Americans. That may win votes, but it's an appeal more to prejudice than to reason.

Balance of Nature

By GREGORY CLARK

BRITISH Columbia has dispensed with the bounty paid on wolves, so once again a wave of controversy will sweep across the Canadian provinces as to whether bounty should be paid or not on that one animal we all-conquering humans can't seem to impress with our majesty.

The wolves on which bounty is paid would, in many instances, have been killed anyway, bounty or no. Trappers are death on wolves, because the wolves destroy the fur caught in traps. Settlers will form posses to hunt wolves that raid their clearings. Wolves are sometimes caught in traps set for other animals. As A. J. Herridge, district forester of Sault Ste. Marie, an area in which wolves are plentiful, says in his weekly news letter, "In many instances, bounty is paid on predators that are killed quite accidentally, or at best are killed incidentally to some other activity."

* * *

And he points out further that in many cases, beneficial and harmless species of animals are killed in mistake for the animals on the bounty list. If these are fur-bearers, they are often taken at a season when the fur is not prime.

On the whole, wild life management experts are opposed to bounties, being of the steadily growing opinion that, despite the upset of the balance of nature created by man, nature will continually strive to restore that balance.

* * *

Wolves, like any other animal, will thrive where their food is abundant, and suffer, or decline or depart from areas in which food is scarce. In addition to the problem of food supply, the wolf is up against the most serious of all dangers that face animals everywhere: Mr. Man. The wolf is a competitor of man. He wants the meat of the animal in the trap. He wants the deer the sportsmen want. Of course, in addition, he will take almost anything else, from a mouse or a snake or a nesting bird, up to the thoroughly dead bodies of any living thing that comes, by accident, malnutrition or old age, to its death in the forest. And, of course, though we forget it constantly, infinitely more wild life dies of natural causes than from the hand of predators, whether man, wolf or fox.

But it is vain to try to speak a good word for the wolf. He's the Red amongst animals.

Say When, Mr. Premier

By ORMOND MARRION

PERHAPS Premier W. A. C. Bennett was only having a little fun the other day when he chided press gallery reporters for the lack of publicity given so far to the non-existent Capital Improvement District Commission.

But it's a pity his joke didn't have a better ending.

The reporters were and are eager to know when the commission is going to be formed, what it is going to do and when it is going to do it. They, however, are not the only ones waiting for the details. Greater Victoria's municipal officials and businessmen are waiting too.

* * *

Mayor Percy Scurrah and others who are waiting think it's fine that the premier doesn't consider $10,000,000 too much to spend on improving and beautifying the capital district over a period (however long) of years.

They are glad, too, that the government wants "the best brains we can get" on the commission.

But they would be much happier if the premier had said whether the commission would start work this spring, next fall or next year, and whether its first job would be to draw a master plan for the improvement of the capital or merely to pick at the most attractive of the project suggestions thrown in profusion before it.

These questions are important, because the longer municipal officials and businessmen wait for the answers, the more they are going to be blamed for procrastination in their own affairs.

* * *

For example, both the city manager and the Chamber of Commerce civic affairs group are supposed to be delving into the traffic problem. City council is seeking more information on the possibility of having a traffic consultant engineer come to Victoria.

A full-scale traffic study, however, would cost thousands of dollars, if not tens of thousands. Master-planning by the Capital Improvement District Commission would almost have to include traffic-planning, and if the commission is going to do it, or ask the Capital Region Planning Bureau to do it, why should the city or Chamber of Commerce rush ahead to spend the money now?

On the other hand, if the commission turns out not to be going to do it, what a slow-moving, do-nothing crowd our aldermen and businessmen are, people will say, sitting around while the traffic problem gets worse and worse!

A traffic-and-parking study and recommendations by the district commission, incidentally, would suit some of the aldermen well, even if they must take the brunt of criticism while waiting.

* * *

Traffic routing is, politically, a delicate matter. There seems to be general recognition that a serious traffic study will result in a recommendation that Government street should be one-way southbound, and Douglas one-way northbound. Considering the number and nature of business establishments that would be affected, it seems natural that most elected representatives would prefer to have such a recommendation come, authoritatively, from some other source.

Parking, too, is a touchy problem, probably touchier because it affects more voters.

The big question is, should the merchants who stand to gain business through better downtown parking pay for it, or should the taxpayers who stand to keep downtown taxes up and their own down pay for it? To what extent should the motorist, who is sometimes also a taxpayer, pay for it?

The municipal officials probably wouldn't mind a little intrusion on the reply to that quesion, either, by another authority that could take the blame for an unpopular answer.

It would not be surprising, therefore, if they don't push the traffic-and-parking question too hard in coming months. But it would be nicer all round if Premier Bennett had said, or would say, that there would be a district commission functioning by June, October or next February.

* * *

Several other projects seem almost certain to stand still pending release of some details of the commission's proposed activities.

The Capital City Grant Committee has $75,000 available for this year's beautification work—but why start planning how to spend it when there's no word on what the commission may do?

Gorge waterway enthusiasts have been preparing to make a drive for major improvements—but do they need now to seek public financial support?

The Chamber of Commerce tourist trade group wants to build an observation platform and parking space on top of Mount Tolmie—but should it seek funds from the city and Saanich and the chamber, or wait?

If the premier would answer some of these question when he returns from his post-session rest, a few volunteers probably could be found in municipal circles to go down and help him put thumbtacks on the reporters' chairs.

Two-Lane Bridge Utter Folly

With my vote as a ratepayer, I am not in favor of a by-law that will authorize throwing away $550,000 or more on any two-lane bridge for so important a bridge as Point Ellice.

Aware of the ever-increasing motor vehicle traffic in both volume and weight, such a bridge would be the height of folly; once built, well-nigh unalterable and from the very start a source of continual bottleneck, annoyance and inconvenience. Let us not repeat the bungling Memorial Arena affair.

As laid out in my letter which appeared in the Colonist just after Jan. 6, a combined four-lane viaduct and bridge starting, say, at Government and Pembroke street and rising right over Rock Bay to Bridge street and carried overhead along Bay street right over the old bridge, and landing on the high level of Victoria West, would be the most satisfactory arrangement for many years to come.

Healthful Habits

I noticed an article in the Colonist a few weeks ago conveying the idea that we should trust the knowledge of our medical profession as regards their opinion on fluorides in our water supply.

There are a great many wonderful men and women who have devoted their lives to trying to relieve suffering, but they seem to be turning more and more to drugs and medicines rather than teaching healthful ways of living. We, the public, would be all out for a planned educational program in the care of teeth by right nutrition and good habits of eating and drinking. That would produce equally good teeth in our children without the necessity of artificial fluorides being added to our drinking water.

Many doctors are not in favor of that method anyway and why should those in certain authoritative positions be allowed such control?

The Devil's Horns

It did not take long for the devil's horns to show up in the Fair Employment Practices Act; and it is to be hoped that the government will not try to shelter behind the excuse that they had not thought of that angle. They had plenty of warning; yet not one voice (with the sole exception of one Liberal member to whom all honor is due), was raised in either protest or explanation.

Perhaps they do not care, in their vast expenditures, if they lose a few votes. Whichever way it was, they may have lost a great deal more prestige and more votes than they bargained for.

This dangerous act should be repealed at once, before it does any more damage to Christian principles.

Insurance for Old Age

May I through your paper commend the Union Board of Health in its endeavor to obtain the buildings at William Head to provide care for certain elderly people?

I fully agree that for some elderly people the need is low-rental homes. However, there are others whose physical and mental condition necessitate constant supervision and some nursing care.

A special unit was built at Essondale for this type of care but it soon became filled and is now restricted to those who become violent.

Care of the non-violent cases must be provided in the homes of their children or, when this is not possible, in private homes licensed and checked by government social service workers for suitability and cleanliness. It would appear most of these homes are run by either spinsters or widows trying to make a living. There is no feeling of permanency or security in these homes.

Monthly board can be increased $10 without previous notice even when the board has already been paid, and in advance. Twenty-four hours' notice to remove an elderly person can be given and then when their family arrives, the matron offers to keep the person provided another $25 a month is paid.

The excuse given for such increases is that the elderly person is considered "a nuisance." Only docile people are desired. In fairness to these matrons, they are on call 24 hours a day and, as they are in business to make money, it is a temptation to take in as many elderly people as possible.

When these elderly people are taken care of by their children and three generations must live under one roof there are many problems and limitations for everyone which, sometimes, does not make for as happy a home as one could desire. Twenty-four-hours-a-day responsibility must be shouldered by the younger people—grandpa and grandma-sitters are even harder to find than baby-sitters.

William Head is only 17 miles out on a good road, and if the Union Board of Health runs the home and an auxiliary formed, the auxiliary would, no doubt, provide transportation for those elderly people who needed or were able to come to town.

Better medical care could be provided by doctors specializing in sicknesses of elderly people. A fuller social life could be enjoyed by the old people as many service clubs would be pleased to entertain such a group.

The best life insurance any of us younger people can provide for our old age is to do now all we possibly can to see that all elderly people are treated with consideration and dignity. We will all be old some day if we live long enough — it is inevitable.

Destroying Unity

How heartily I and many others agree with your editorial regarding the Fair Employment Practices Act and its recent outcome. The last line of your editorial, "It is too late afterwards to say, 'Oh, but we didn't mean it to work out that way'," sums it up beautifully — which is the very reason many of us tried so hard to prevent its passing, because we did see how it can, and will, be used by those who are interested in destroying our Christian unity.

Mr. Ron Gostick, who spoke recently in Victoria, warned against this very thing. Here is a man who sees behind the scenes; but who will listen, until it's too late?

Education Needed

Attitude to Indians Irks Cowichan Agent

There is "far too great" a tendency for people and newspapers to refer "derogatively" and "collectively" to Indians, Jefferay Boys, Indian superintendent of the Cowichan agency, told the Indian Arts and Welfare Society this week.

"We should try to correct this," he said. "Indians are individuals and a great many are fine and good individuals."

The public, Mr. Boys, said urgently requires education about advances made by Indians over the past 10 years.

The Indian department is trying to encourage Indians to govern themselves, he said.

Many bands, he said, elect their chiefs and councils every two or three years, but among other bands there is "considerable reluctance" to part with the old system of appointing a chief for life.

TORONTO (CP) — A goal of "$5,000,000 and more" has been set for this year's missionary and maintenance appeal in churches of the United Church of Canada.

Rev. Victor T. Mooney, United Church treasurer, told a board of finance meeting here that the various departments of the Church needed $5,600,000 for work in Canada and overseas this year. Next year the departments would require $6,400,000.

The Viewing World — By John Crosby

Mental Health Topic Handled Splendidly

I didn't see all of "Out of Darkness" on CBC-TV because it conflicted with "Taming of the Shrew" on NBC-TV, but I saw enough of it to think that it ought to be repeated. Mental health is the country's number one medical problem and this was certainly the most ambitious attempt to tackle it both comprehensively and yet so simply that most anyone could understand it.

Heroine of the show was a catatonic woman — a woman who could not, or would not, speak — in the Metropolitan State Hospital, Norwalk, Calif. This was quite a bold step on the part of writer-producer Al Wasserman and executive producer Irving Gitlin because it was quite possible that the woman, an actual patient, would not respond to treatment in which case they would have wound up with thousands of feet of film but not much of a show.

Happily, she did respond, enough at least to give the show a hopeful ending. Either by luck or design, Wasserman had a heroine with a haunting, unusual face on which were clearly mirrored her fears, her withdrawal from the world, her "rich life of fantasy."

Another happy choice was that of Dr. William C. Menninger, one of the nation's top psychiatrists, as narrator. Menninger has a warm personality, an abundance of plain ordinary common sense, and a marvellously uncomplicated prose style.

The problem of mental disease, as Menninger pointed out, is entirely a matter of degree. There is not one of us who has not suffered some of the fears and insecurities that tormented this girl, who has not withdrawn at least briefly from the world, into a world of fantasy. Whether you are a hospital case or not, depends on how far you withdraw and how long you've been away.

This factor gave "Out of Darkness" a universality of appeal that should have been deeply moving to anyone over the age of six. Beginning with her arrival in the hospital, mute and withdrawn, the cameras followed the girl during a two-and-a-half-month period of extremely delicate and precarious psychotherapy with Dr. Louis Cholden, Los Angeles psychiatrist.

Heart-Breaking Scenes

The girl knew she was being filmed but the actual photography was done through one-way glass so as not to intrude on the doctor-patient relationship. With heart-breaking slowness, Dr. Cholden won the girl's confidence and got her to speak haltingly of her conflicts, to take part in the routine of the hospital, to re-enter the world of people.

There was a very moving scene with her husband, a remarkably patient and understanding fellow, telling the mute girl of the home he had waiting for her and imploring her to speak because he wanted to hear the sound of her voice.

Just what hurt the girl so badly that it threw her into this trancelike state was never explained. Perhaps there were reasons why it couldn't be told, but this omission was the only weakness in an otherwise splendid show.

"Out of Darkness" was a conspicuous exception. I don't see how anyone could sit through an hour and a half of it without finding out something about himself, his own inner conflicts and the way his mind and his emotions work. In that respect, this was a genuinely educational program and, considering the importance of the subject, it should be repeated.

As a sort of counterpoint to the actual story, Orson Welles read portions of a remarkable book written anonymously almost 100 years ago by a patient in a mental hospital in Glasgow, Scotland. It's a remarkably prescient book that reveals an insight into mental illness that is ahead of its time even today, and Welles read it beautifully. Still, I don't know that this part was very necessary. The girl and her haunting face were the star of the show.

Age Regression Pure Imagination Easy To Do, Too, Says Hypnotist

BY ROBERT ZIMMERMAN

NEW YORK (UP) — A pretty 19-year-old sophomore at Columbia University can "remember" under hypnosis when she was a Russian ballerina, dancing the ballet "Les Sylphides" in Moscow in 1895.

I had called on the hypnotist to check on the prospects of taking a journey into the past such as that described in the best-selling book "The Search for Bridey Murphy," (recently serialized in The Daily Colonist).

The hypnotist, a shapely professional named Lynn Gordon, had as her subject dark-eyed Miss Abrams, a native New Yorker, who had cut a class to come down. "It's a wonderful experience," Miss Abrams assured me.

"I've worked with Miss Abrams five or six times. She's an excellent subject but I've never tried this sort of thing with her before," Miss Gordon said.

"You are falling asleep . . . deep asleep . . . deeper and deeper asleep," Miss Gordon insisted as Miss Abrams stared fixedly into her eyes. Miss Abrams went under in no time at all, and after some demonstrations that proved she was truly hypnotized we were ready to begin.

"Now I want you to remember," instructed Miss Gordon, "when you were 12 years old. Tell us what you see."

"I'm jumping rope," Miss Abrams began. "But I wish I had something else to do. Jumping rope is boring . . ." She described the sidewalk and street corner where she was playing. Then Miss Gordon told her to go back further. She was six years old and would tell us what she saw.

Miss Abrams gave us the names of the children who sat on either side of her in the first grade. She started sobbing when she told how she had lost one of her favorite dolls. Then the hypnotist took her to the age of three, and finally to the age of one.

Then Miss Gordon told Miss Abrams she was going back "through space and time, far, far back . . ."

"I'm dancing," Mis Abrams smiled, her eyes still closed. Where was she dancing? "In a theatre of course. We're dancing Les Sylphides. The other dancers don't realize how I feel when I dance. They don't understand what it is to dance the way I do."

Where was the theatre? "In Moscow." On what street in Moscow? Miss Abrams hesitated and frowned. "I can't remember. I think it begins with an 'L.'" What year was it? "1895." What was her name? "Rana . . . Ranya . . . no, it's Iranya."

Then Miss Gordon asked her subject to go farther back and see what she could remember. Miss Abrams gave a hazy account of riding with some Mongolian warriors along the bottom of a "very high wall."

Miss Gordon, after bringing Miss Abrams back to New York, said it was an interesting demonstration but doesn't prove much of anything. Hypnotized subjects have been spinning such "recollections" for years, she said, and in her opinion they are quite imaging tion.

NANAIMO — A 20-year-old youth will spend this weekend in the Nanaimo RCMP jail to consider where he obtained beer on March 17.

Amstutz was also charged with driving a motor vehicle on Old Victoria road on March 17 without due consideration for other persons on the highway. He also pleaded guilty to this charge.

Magistrate Beevor-Potts told the accused that he would be remanded for sentence until Monday "and you can think over how you got the beer. You are to be held in custody."

E and N Says 'No' To Schedule Idea

The E & N Railway has rejected a suggestion that the rail schedule between Victoria and Courtenay should be reversed, but has promised to give the idea further consideration.

The retail merchants group of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce asked the company to have the daily round trip start at Courtenay instead of Victoria so that shoppers would have a chance of doing their marketing in Victoria, and return the same day.

Under the present service up-Island users of the E and N do not arrive in Victoria until after the stores are closed.

Festival Players Win Praise

ERRINGTON — The second night of the Northern Vancouver Island Drama Festival opened with "The Invisible Worm" by Masque Dramatic Society, Port Alberni.

Adjudicator, Mrs. Phoebe Smith, found the "talented cast of three well rehearsed." Mrs. Hazel Ritchie, director, "had a firm hand on the strings." In the cast were Walter Dahlquist, Cathie Bugden and Peter Campbell.

"Ballet Hoo," by Coombs Drama Club, "not good festival material," said Mrs. Smith. Anne Valentine, producer, and Alice Van Horne, comedy part, were singled out for praise.

In "The Jack and The Joker," presented by Parksville Players, under direction of Patricia Smith, an outstanding performance was given by Gretta Haworth as Dorinda Carp, "a very good actress."

Courtenay Plans 60 New Lights

COURTENAY—Within the next few months Courtenay will have sixty street lights, converted from 100 to 200 watts and a number of new lights installed at strategic points also.

The new lighting changes will be paid for by the B.C. Power Commission with the exception of the higher voltage lights for which the city will pay.

City Council also reported that money to provide a dog pound has been voted in this year's estimates.

Courtenay Plans Gymnastic Show

COURTENAY—Next Wednesday night Courtenay's Recreational Association plans to produce a new type of annual gymnastic show. Their idea is to get more people to take an interest in the local sports and to this end five games will be played, one each of basketball, volleyball, indoor lacrosse, badminton and floor hockey. There will also be gymnastic displays by classes from four-year-olds to ladies keep-fit classes and boxing and weightlifting. Comox District Band will also be in attendance.

New Directors

Three new directors elected at the annual meeting last week of St. Joseph's Hospital Employees' Association are: Mrs. R. Rayburn, Cyril Woolford and Albert Pritchard. They replaced the retiring officers, Leonard Walton, Mrs. Ethel Taylor and Vern

What I'd Do

If I Had a Million

LOGAN MAYHEW

Best thing about having a million dollars would be "the fun you could have trying to see what good you could do with it," says car dealer Logan Mayhew.

However, he emphasizes that "I'm not satisfied that a million dollars would remove all the worries from a person's mind."

He would think some time about charitable gifts because "an organization is only alive and wide awake when it's searching for funds."

Mr. Mayhew was certain about one gift. At First United church, "I would like to see the ministerial staff better paid and the aesthetic side improved by some stained glass windows."

Primarily, he hoped, "I wouldn't have to work so hard."

That way, he could find time to travel, to Europe because it is "old, staid and steeped in tradition," and to Australia and New Zealand for the opposite reason, because they are "fresh, vigorous and a bit pioneering."

"I would very much like to see the Met (New York's Metropolitan Opera) for a while."

Doubts Cast On Heroism

OTTAWA (CP)—State secretary Pinard said Friday his department is investigating whether the George Medal was awarded improperly to a Montreal milkman in the rescue of three children from a burning home of the Caughnawaga Indian reserve near Montreal Dec. 20, 1955.

The medal was awarded to 33-year-old Edward C. Chipman by Governor-General Massey at a ceremony at Government House Jan. 24. He was credited with saving three children, one of whom died later in hospital from burns.

"An investigation is going on following reports that this man did not rescue the children," Mr. Pinard said. "We are checking the accuracy of alleged facts which do not correspond to an act of heroism."

Mr. Pinard was asked what steps would be taken if it were proved Chipman did not do it.

"We will have to examine what procedure would have to be followed," he said.

The Canada Gazette which publishes official government notices, carried announcement of the award in its Dec. 17 issue.

France's Red Chief Accused of Spying

PARIS (AP)—Jacques Duclos, French Communist party chief, was accused Friday of obtaining information from France's top-secret defence council and passing it to a "friendly ambassador."

The ambassador was not identified, but the implication was that he was friendly to the Communists.

The accusation came from Roger Wybot, director of a police bureau, during yesterday's session of France's invoked defence - leaks trial.

Three former civil service employees of the defence council and a Communist newspaper man are on trial, accused of forming a chain through which defence secrets passed to the Communist party in 1954, and then to the Communist Vietminh rebels fighting the French in Indochina.

The newspaper man is Andre Baranes. The other defendants are Jean Mons, former secretary of the defence council, who is charged with negligence, and his two aides, Roger Labrusse and Rene Turpin.

By Jim Tang

STILL A CHANCE?: Charlie Lewis, manager of Victoria Strathconas, believes that his club will yet be accepted by the new Vancouver summer soccer league. He says one of the league officials told him recently that Mainland clubs now realize they made a mistake in voting against Victoria . . . well, one all hope Charlie is right . . . Jock Headry, major domo of the summer league, says that play will be in 30-minute halves with time out when the ball is not in play . . . oldsters probably won't be in favor of changing anything, but why not do something when your game is dying on the vine of tradition or something. Canadian sports fans are used to set periods of action so why not 30 minutes of soccer action instead of 45-minute periods during which there is invariably 15 or more minutes wasted for throw-ins and for retreiving the ball for goal kicks? It really isn't going to make much, if any, difference in play, could prove popular. . . .

* * *

BETTER A SEMI-FINAL: On the subject of hockey playdowns, discussed here the other day, it does seem that a best-of-five, or even a best-of-three, semi-final between the second and third-place clubs in the Western Division of the Western Hockey League would have been better than the double round-robin series, even if it meant the first-place club would be idle for a week . . . the big weakness of the round-robin series is the likelihood that one team could be eliminated from playoff competition because it scored fewer goals while getting an equal number of points . . . this happened during the season and is decidedly unfair. Seattle Americans and New Westminster Royals both compiled 31-37-2 records but Americans had to settle for fourth place because Royals scored 238 goals while Seattle scored only 201 . . . Americans had the better defensive record by 15 goals and the difference in goal average came in losing games . . . in view of the fact there is no hesitation in scheduling lengthy playdowns there should be no qualms about calling for a sudden-death playoff game if clubs wind up in a point tie. . . .

* * *

BILL MAY STAY: Bill Davidson, steady defenceman of the Victoria Cougars, is considering the possibility of spending the summer here. Bill is a pretty fair sort of a shortstop according to reports and would likely line up with the club Ed Ash hopes to enter in the new semi-pro baseball league. . . . One thing about ex-Cougar Alex Kuzma is that you know just what to expect from him. In five seasons in the Western Hockey League he has never failed to score less than 20 goals and his total is 101. His top effort came in the 1953-54 season, when he scored 21 for the Cougars. . . . The Hockey Pictorial has been improving steadily and the current issue certainly has a lot of good reading. Of particular interest is a feature on Andy Hebenton. . . . Junior hockey is in a bad way. Edmonton Oil Kings, for instance, had a gross revenue of less than $6,000 for 21 home games this season. Only three seasons back the Oil Kings had gate receipts of more than $40,000. . . . Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen, who couldn't beat either the United States or Russia in the Olympic Games, climaxed a bad season by getting knocked off in Ontario playdowns by Chatham Maroons, the fourth-place club. And to make it even harder to take, the defending Allan Cup champions lost in straight games.

* * *

BILL NOT COMING? A Vancouver report says that Bill Barbour, the promising youngster who is supposed to line up with Victoria Shamrocks this season, will stay in Vancouver if Pilseners can match the Shamrocks' job offer. . . . Incidentally, among those turning out for lacrosse practices in Vancouver are Jack Byford, Alex MacKay, Elmer Buchanan, Alf Brenner, Harry Buchanan, Jack Dale, Denny Huddleston, Marino Cervi, Mario Crema, Bob Marsh, Ron Delmonico, Joe Durante and several good juniors. . . . Expected are such as Stan Joseph, Fred Aspin, Gordie Nickle, Ted Hunt, Larry Crema and Normie Lee. . . . Coach Jake Proctor doesn't lack for talent. . . . Racing at Sandown park should open this year about Sept. 15 if present plans can be carried out. . . . A Calgary report says that Indian Jack Jacobs, who has his release from Winnipeg Blue Bombers, plans to try out with B.C. Lions in preference to taking a contract offer from Calgary Stampeders. Jacobs spent last season as a Bomber scout. . . . Vancouver Mounties had better get some men pretty soon or Coast league baseball will be a flop in Vancouver. Judging from what they have on the roster at the moment, about all Mounties can hope for is seventh place with eighth more likely. . . . And, lastly, a bouquet to Tiger Jones, who never fails to give TV fans plenty of action.

* * *

GUESSING DEPARTMENT: Strathconas and Canadian Scottish in today's soccer, Oak Bay Wanderers and Navy in rugby play, Edmonton, Saskatoon and New Westminster in tonight's WHL playdowns and Canadiens and Detroit in Stanley Cup playdowns. Batting average to date: At bat 65, hits 41, percentage .631.

Jones Gets Nod Over Humez—Cambridge Boat Race Choice

Spoiler Ralph "Tiger" Jones piled up a big early lead Friday night in his nationally-televised middleweight bout with France's Charley Humez to gain a 10-round split decision and ruin the European champion's professional debut in the United States.

A 2-1 underdog, the 28-year-old Jones cut the ring-worn Frenchman over the left eye and hurt him in the fourth round. Forcing the pace in the first half of the Madison Square Garden scrap, Jones gained a big edge that stood up against Humez' late drive. The defeat snapped Humez' unbeaten streak at 17.

CAMBRIDGE FAVORED: Fred Dwyer broke the Canadian mile record at the Canadian indoor track meet at Montreal last night, finishing in 4.11.1 . . . Carey's Cottage was made a 10-1 favorite last night to win today's 110th running of the Grand National steeplechase . . . Needles, winner of the Flamingo Stakes, heads a field of 15 three-year-olds for today's Florida Derby at Gulfstream park.

STRETCHES LEAD: Young Billy Maxwell boosted his lead to three strokes in the second round of the Miami Beach Open golf tournament yesterday with an amazing 129 total for 36 holes, 15 strokes under par . . . Don Raleigh of the Saskatoon Quakers will be sent to the parent New York Rangers as soon as the Quakers are eliminated from further WHL play . . . Billy Talbert has been named captain of the U.S. Davis Cup tennis team for the fourth consecutive time . . . American singles champion Joe Alston has reached the semi-finals of the Glasgow invitational badminton tournament . . . Arnie Weinmeister may return to the B.C. Lions again this year.

Canucks in Tough Spot As Cougars Win, 3-2

VANCOUVER—Victoria Cougars, who lost the championship of the Western Division of the Western Hockey League to Vancouver Canucks in the last week of the schedule, came as close as is possible to eliminating the Canucks from the playdowns last night by scoring a 3-2 victory at Vancouver.

Cougars now lead the double round-robin with a maximum of four points from two games.

New Westminster Royals have two points from two games and Canucks have lost both their games. Just the same, it is still possible for the Canucks to finish on top and for the Cougars to lose out.

GOALS MAY DECIDE

If Canucks can win their remaining two games and Royals defeat the Cougars tonight, it would create a three-way tie with each club having four points. Goals would then decide the issue and Cougars are likely to lose out if they lose both their games while Canucks win both theirs. Cougars have six goals from the two winning games while Canucks and Royals have five each.

Led by rookie defenceman Nelson Bulloch, veteran winger Colin Kilburn and goalkeeper Marcel Pelletier, the Cougars turned in a fine team effort last night.

They cashed in on three penalties for all of their goals as they took a 3-0 lead, held off Canucks' attempt to square matters, and then came back strongly in the last part of the third period.

POWER PLAY CLICKS

Bulloch, prominent throughout on the attack, and Kilburn both figured in all three goals as the Cougars finally came up with a power play that clicked.

Bulloch scored the first goal in the second minute of the first period while Ray Cyr was in the penalty box as Kilburn fed him the pass. Then Doug Anderson, who came back to his best form made it 2-0 on a play with Bulloch and Kilburn while George Ford was sitting out the first of two second-period penalties.

WINNING GOAL

Less than a minute after Ford was whistled off the second time, Kilburn clicked on a play with Anderson and Bulloch for what proved to be the winning goal.

Bulloch was back again for a couple of good tries, then Ray Mikulan, who also turned in a stellar game in the nets, stopped Don Chiupka when the Cougar rookie was home free.

After Mikulan's fine save, the Canucks took over for the balance of the period. Phil Maloney—who else?—put his club back into the game at 14.31 and Pelletier had to be good to hold his club's lead at 3-1 for the third period.

LOOKED PROMISING

Things looked promising for Canucks when Jerry Ehman, neatly set up by Cyr, brought the score to 3-2 at 1.26 of the third period. It was nip and tuck from there with Canucks pressing hard for the tying goal and Mikulan starring from time to time as the Cougars broke away in a try for the insurance goal.

Mikulan was taken off for a sixth attacker with about a minute left but the hard-fighting Cougars blocked everything and had two long shots at the open net.

"What a victory!" enthused Victoria coach Eddie Olson after the game. "That's the best game we have played this season. You should have seen that Bulloch go. He was terrific."

EFFECTIVE CHECKING

Olson also had plenty of praise for everybody on the club and also singled out the Skip Teal-Jim Robertson-Don Chiupka line for its job in checking Vancouver's first-string line practically to a standstill.

"That Chiupka didn't give McCarthy (Maloney's leftwinger) a chance to take a good breath."

Olson said his club escaped with only minor injuries. Defencemen Bill Dobbyn had a swollen toe, hit by a stick, and Bruce Carmichael, also clouted with a stick, had a bruised finger. Both are expected to be in action tonight.

Victoria—Goal, Pelletier; defence, Whitney, Dobbyn, Bulloch; Davidson; forwards, Olson, Teal, Robertson, Anderson, W. Brown, Carmichael, Kilburn, Marsales, Chiupka, Wonoski.

Vancouver—Goal, Mikulan; defence, Egan, Buonon; Currie, Kaiser; forwards, Ehman, Marquess, Maloney, Lilley, Cyr, McCarthy, F. Brown, Ford, Kanel, Pentelli.

Referee, Ed Powers; linesman, Ed Downey.

Leafs Face Wings Without Tod Sloan

Toronto's bitter Maple Leafs will try to get back into Stanley Cup contention tonight without Tod Sloan, their starry, 27-goal centre.

Sloan was sidelined for the balance of Stanley Cup play on Thursday night when he suffered a fracture of the right shoulder blade when taken in the boards by Detroit's Gordie Howe.

Toronto players and officials charge that Sloan, who had received an eight-stitch cut on his head in the last NHL game against the Wings, had been singled out for "special treatment."

ODDS PROHIBITIVE

Leafs trail Detroit, 2-0, in their best-of-seven semi-final but have the advantage of home ice for the next two games. However, the loss of Sloan has made the odds on the defending Stanley Cup champions prohibitive.

Detroit will likely be without Dutch Reibel, their first-string centre. Reibel was forced out of Thursday's rough game when the shoulder which had been dislocated just before the end of the season was re-injured.

Meanwhile, the jubilant New York Rangers were predicting they would eliminate Montreal Canadiens.

ON HOME ICE

"We'll win it now," coach Phil Watson said confidently, pleased as punch with getting a 1-1 break in the first two games on Montreal ice. Rangers will be on home ice tonight and tomorrow in the third and fourth games.

Montreal coach Toe Blake didn't give his club a workout but he gave them a going-over in a dressing-room meeting.

"We had our meeting and we cried over our mistakes," Blake said. "If we can't win a game on New York ice then we don't deserve to win the series."

Asked if his players had suffered any injuries, Watson snorted: "Injuries. They didn't touch anybody. How could they get hurt?"

Watson wasn't certain whether or not veteran rookie Gordie Bell would stay in goal but chances were that regular-goalkeeper Lorne Worsley, who sat it out Thursday as Rangers won, 4-2, would get his job back.

Clippers Lead Coy Cup Final

Nanaimo Clippers won the first game of the best-of-three hockey series for the Coy Cup last night, thumping Trail, 10-2, at Nanaimo.

Second game of the series will be played tonight, and the third, if necessary, on Sunday afternoon.

The Clippers led, 5-0, at the end of the first period, and Angelo Defelice went on a scoring spree to get the other five Clipper goals in the next two periods.

B.C., Manitoba Clubs Win Opening Games

VANCOUVER (CP)—Veteran Bob Pickel's 21 points paced British Columbia Totems to a 70-57 win over Ontario Northowns here Friday night in the second game of the Olympic basketball trials opener.

Manitoba Buffaloes won the first game of the double round robin series 87-75 over Alberta's Towne Hallers.

The two Friday night winners—B.C. and Manitoba—meet tonight while the losers, Alberta and Ontario, clash on the other half of tonight's program.

The Ontario team, while forcing the play most of the way, was only ahead in the first few minutes when it scored the opening baskets. The B.C. squad was ragged most of the way but showed brilliant play in their twin-post offence.

Other standouts for Totems were guard Bob Burtwell and centre John McLeod, each with 15 points.

B.C. picked up most of the fouls called during the clean game—Ron Bissett and Pickel fouling out in the game's dying minutes.

The fast-breaking Buffaloes were paced by centre Erv Olafson with 26 points, guard Walter Parobec with 23 and veteran Carl Ridd with 21.

Limits on Salmon, Grilse. . . .

. . . Trimmed by Federal Order

New Restrictions Placed on Sports Fishermen

Limits on salmon caught by sports fishermen have been cut by 20 per cent in an order in council passed by the federal cabinet on March 15.

Announcement of the new regulations for fishing in tidal waters was made in Vancouver yesterday by A. J. Whitmore, chief supervisor of fisheries in B.C. for the Department of Fisheries.

Sports fishermen are now permitted a daily limit of eight grilse (salmon under three pounds in weight) or four salmon, or not more than eight salmon and grilse in the aggregate.

The latter means an angler may catch four salmon and four grilse or any combination of salmon and grilse which adds up to eight as long as the number of salmon does not exceed the maximum of four.

Previous limit daily was 10 grilse or five salmon, or not more than 10 in the aggregate.

Victoria anglers questioned about the new regulations were united in opposition to the reduced maximum and most had extremely strong views. Few had too much quarrel with the number of salmon permitted, agreeing that a maximum catch would still constitute a good day's sport. However, they felt that if restrictions were needed in the interests of conservation that they should be first put on the commercial catch, which accounts, they said, for more than 90 per cent of the salmon caught.

"This is the wedge which will eventually see more and more restrictions placed on the sports fisherman," was the general comment.

"We had better get together and try to do something about it. It's apparent no one in authority realizes the importance of our sports fishing industry," was another comment.

The new regulations, it was pointed out in the notice from the Department of Fisheries, were changed from the original proposal of limiting the daily catch to five salmon (unchanged) and five grilse.

This was done "after reviewing the reaction to this proposal from a wide cross-section of interested individuals, including members of sports fishing organizations, fishermen's unions and personnel of the protection and scientific branches of fishery administration."

As the reason for the cut in maximum catches, the notice said that "it has been estimated that participation by sportsmen for coho and spring salmon has doubled in the past 10 years and the amendment is extended as a further measure in the interests of conservation."

New restrictions were also placed on fishing in Rivers Inlet, where a record catch of 1,014 salmon averaging 44 pounds was made last year. Anglers are now limited to a catch of two salmon per day with a seasonal limit of six during the period between July 20 and Sept. 15, inclusive.

At Phillips Arm a straight daily catch limit of three salmon has been set for the whole season from June 1 to Oct. 31.

Another amendment dispenses with closed seasons in the Serpentine, Nicomekl, Campbell and Salmon rivers, Nathan (Beaver) creek, Marshall (Lonzo) creek or in the tributaries of these waters.

These waters had previously been closed to fishing between Aug. 16 and March 31, inclusive.

Ken Mann only managed a 510 triple in the mixed tenpin league this week but although the score is nothing sensational, it's good enough to win him a badge. Munn did it the hard way, rolling three games of 170, a feat rare enough to gain an award from the tenpin bowlers' association.

Cards Need More Pitching Strength To Make Challenge for NL Pennant

By LEO H. PETERSEN

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UP)—With energetic Frank Lane installed as the new general manager and combative Freddie Hutchinson as field manager, the St. Louis Cardinals are hoping for better things this season.

The Cards finished seventh in 1955 when their pitching went sour but they hope for marked improvement in that department this year with the return from service of Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell. Mizell won 13 games for the Redbirds in 1953 before going into service and generally was rated as one of the coming stars of the game.

Also Lane has been sounding out all other major league clubs on deals to gain pitching strength and while he hasn't come through with A grade as yet the chances are good he will.

COUNTING ON SMITH

The Cardinals are counting on a comeback by Frank Smith the ex-Cincinnati relief ace who was of little value to the club last season because of a sore arm.

Three left-handers will be in Hutchinsons starting rotation—Harvey Haddix and Luis Arroyo, a 11-game winner in his rookie season last year, in addition to Mizell. For right-handed starters, Hutch is banking on Tom Poholsky, Larry Jackson and Willard Schmidt.

MABE COULD MAKE IT

Other possibilities include Bob Mabe, up from Houston where he was a 16-game winner, Gordon Jones a bust last season after a fine rookie year in 1954, and Ben Flowers, who had a 12-9 record at Buffalo.

Ellis Kinder, the 41-year-old former Red Sox relief ace; Paul Lapalme, Jackie Collum and Stu Miller are candidates for bullpen jobs along with Smith.

Both Lane and Hutchinson feel the Cards have two of the best looking rookies in outfielder-infielder Jackie Brandt and second baseman Don Blasingame. Both have looked especially good. Hutchinson has been trying Brandt at short because he is long on outfielders, but if the youngster does not make it there he probably will stay on as a utility man.

SECOND-BASE BATTLE

Blasingame, who hit .302 at Omaha, is battling the veteran Red Schoendienst for the second base spot, while Alex Grammas and Dick Schofield are shortstop candidates along with Brandt.

Wally Moon, who was converted from an outfielder late last season, definitely will start the season at first, according to Hutchinson. If he does not improve in his defensive work however, Joe Cunningham and Tom Alston, both of whom have failed in previous trials, are available.

Ken Boyer, one of the league's best rookies in 1955, will be at third with Solly Hemis behind him.

Stan Musial, Bill Virdon and Rip Repulski will be the outfield starters.

MUSIAL IN OUTFIELD

"Musial definitely will stay in the outfield and not go back to first," Hutchinson declared.

Joe Frazier and either Archie Wilson or Pete Whisenant will be the outfield reserves.

Behind the plate it will be Bill Sarni, the veteran Walker Cooper, and rookie Hal Smith, another Houston graduate who hit .299 last year.

Except for that pitching the pitching Hutchinson said, "If Cardinals have the makings of we get it we should command two or a pennant contender three notches, maybe even "Everything depends on our pitching."

Message from the Minister — Passion Season

'Christ Died for All of Us'

Another in a series of articles by Greater Victoria clergymen appearing weekly on The Daily Colonist church page

REV. C. C. JANZOW

Pastor, Hope Lutheran Church

The passion season, which reaches its climax on Good Friday, commemorates the supreme sacrifice of Christ in Gethsemane and on the cross of Golgotha on behalf of all human beings.

"Christ died for all!" Every sinner should believe and say: "Christ died for me. I am redeemed unto God by the blood and death of His Son!"

Christ is our substitute. He took our place under the law and redeemed us from the curse of the law being made a curse for us, for it is written: "Cursed is everyone that hangeth on a tree."

Surely He hath borne our griefs and carried our sorrows. He was wounded for our transgressions and was bruised for our iniquities. The chastisement of our peace was upon Him and with His stripes we are healed."

There is supreme value in Christ's suffering and death. This Man of Sorrows, and acquainted with grief, is the true God and eternal life. Our Redeemer is God Himself. "God was in Christ reconciling the world unto Himself. The blood of Jesus Christ, God's Son, cleanseth us from all sin!"

This miracle of God's love exerts a sanctifying power on every believer's behavior. It leads him to contrition and repentance. It motivates him to deny himself and to take up his cross and follow Jesus, not only in the Lenten season, but daily and continually.

"Christ died for all that they which live should not henceforth live unto themselves; but unto Him which died for them and rose again."

Christ's sacrifice for us is the source of all comfort in life and in the hour of death. Since our Redeemer was in all points tempted like as we are, He can be touched with the feeling of our infirmities.

Now we can come boldly to the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy and find grace to help in time of need. Christ has abolished death and the fear of death. He brought life and immortality to light.

God forbid that we should glory, save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom the world is crucified to us, and we unto the world.

Baha'i Marks New Year 112

The local Spiritual Assembly of the Baha'is and more than 100 Baha'i communities throughout Canada, marked the beginning of the Baha'i Year 112 Wednesday with the Feast of Naw Ruz.

The Baha'i New Year begins at the time of the vernal equinox on March 21, and its celebration is symbolic of the coming of springtime and the renewal of life.

Baha'is believe that 112 years ago the founder of their faith, Baha'u'llah, brought a new spiritual impetus to man.

City Plant Expansion Means 75 New Jobs

Major industrial development, including a $400,000 plywood plant addition and a $250,000 increase in annual payroll, was announced by B.C. Forest Products Ltd. in Victoria last night.

H. G. Munro, company president, said 75 men will be hired for regular jobs, increasing the yearly plywood employment to 625 men and the payroll to more than $2,000,000.

Total number of employees in the sawmill and plywood divisions on the Gorge road and in the plywood plant at Youbou will be 1,050 and total payroll will be $3,800,000.

IMMEDIATE START

Mr. Munro said expansion of the plywood plant to increase [illegible] also is slated for July.

"It's very welcome news," said Ald. Austin Curtis, [illegible] president of Victoria Chamber of Commerce. "It's gratifying to know they have [illegible] additional confidence in Victoria."

Mr. Munro called the expansion "another phase of the company's long range employment stabilization program to a [illegible] of complete utilization and maximum manufacture towards final use.

"A GOOD PLACE"

"In addition, the company considers Victoria a good place to live with its ideal climate its personnel potential. Its proximity to company timber holdings and the good labor management relations which have been established.

Consumption of logs by the plant will not be altered. Instead the expansion will mean finishing of plywood now being marketed unfinished and addition of a department for manufacture of specialties through further manufacture of standard plywood.

The company will hire 50 men for finishing work and 25 men for the specialty department.

Specialty department will have 9,600 square feet of floor space in the addition. Another 7,200 square feet will accommodate a dryer, third in the plant and largest of its type.

NEW MACHINES

The dryer will process green veneers for plywood. Sanding equipment will provide special cutting and shaping and newly developed electronic equipment will permit continuous edge gluing of veneer.

Mr. Munro said the third dryer will make the plant "one of the most modern, and with its existing two hot presses and two lathes, one of the best balanced in the industry."

He pointed out new equipment will "mean a further investigation with a consequent fuller utilization of raw material."

His statement added that while year round employment is "entirely dependent on continued good markets B.C. Forest Products Ltd. has been able for some years to hold steady schedules and year round employment for the vast majority of its employees."

Zoning, Education Keep Council Busy

City council will have a busy afternoon Tuesday.

Mayor Percy Scurrah said yesterday council will meet in committee of the whole at 2 p.m. to give further consideration to the proposed new zoning by-law for the city.

At 4 p.m., Greater Victoria school trustees will arrive to discuss this year's school estimates with council.

In preparing the zoning by-law for final passage council will take into consideration a dozen representations made to it Thursday in a public hearing.

Aldermen decided to invite the school board to explain its estimates at the same time as they voted to object formally "to each and every item" because of the $4,500,000 gross increase from last year's total. Approximately $163,000 greater than last year.

Assize Court

Burglary Suspects Draw Prison Terms

Prison terms of 2½ years each were imposed on Bhaga Singh, 512 Hillside, Nelson Hutchinson, Belmont Trailer park and Fred Schultz, Vancouver, in assize court yesterday.

An RCN steward, Peter Bell, was sentenced to three months determinate and six months indeterminate in New Haven convicted of manslaughter, he was prohibited from driving in Canada for seven years.

Bhaga Singh, Hutchinson and Schultz were convicted of illegal possession of housebreaking tools. They were arrested by Saanich police at 2:30 a.m. Nov. 26 in a car parked on Albina about 100 yards from a chain grocery store.

PLEAS REJECTED

Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson rejected pleas of defence counsels that the prisoners be sentenced to Oakalla prison farm. "They all had been given earlier chances to redeem themselves," he said.

All three men have previous convictions. Hutchinson was released in September, 1954. He was sentenced to six years in 1950 for armed robbery of Gold Stream Inn and lesser concurrent sentences for thefts of a chain saw and a power saw.

Bhaga Singh was convicted of rape in 1952 and sentenced to 2½ years and also convicted of assault causing bodily harm in 1950.

Schultz was convicted on two counts of possession of housebreaking tools and of unlawful possession of a revolver in 1952.

BRAVERY CITED

Joseph McKenna, QC, counsel for Hutchinson, read a Crown report to the court of his client's part in rescuing three children from a 1,000-foot cliff of Mount Finlayson in November, 1955. "A man who would do that is not bad," he said.

In the Bell case, Mr. Justice Wilson said he could not forget "the Bell's have destroyed a decent and honest respectable citizen."

He had received a longer sentence of a Bristol, and but in view of Bell having been in custody since late December he would impose the lighter sentence, Mr. Justice Wilson said.

Bell was driving west on Johnson about 8:30 p.m. Dec. 27 when his car struck a pick-up truck driven by Jasper J. Charles, 7 Cooper road at Catherine. Charles died in hospital the next day.

Under Health Scheme

Physicians, Patients To Retain Freedom

Health Minister Eric Martin has assured the B.C. Medical Association that any socialized health plan in B.C. will provide "freedom of choice" between doctors and patients.

"Each patient must have the right to choose his physician and the physician must have the right of freedom of choice of patients as is the case right now," he said.

Freedom of choice was one of the most important ingredients of such a scheme "and one which the government supports most strongly," doctors were assured.

PART OF HEALING

Nothing whatever must be done which might injure the [illegible] relationship between the physician and the patient. "For this in itself was a most important aspect of the healing [illegible] medicine," said.

"In some countries such as Australia and England freedom of choice was limited," he said. "[illegible] good."

B.C. STANDS ALONE

Under a plan proposed by the federal government a national hospital plan, together with laboratory and X-ray diagnostic services will be introduced if [illegible] provinces agree on terms. So far B.C. is the only province to sign.

"In B.C. wants a national health plan. Plan covers all medical services for Ottawa officials say the national hospital plan will be expanded gradually over the years until all services are [illegible]."

"The [illegible] be intelligently discussed at this time," he said.

"Economic conditions will have a strong bearing and since the medical aspect of a national health care program will not be introduced for several years, we have no way of knowing what conditions will be like when it is introduced," said Mr. Martin.

Insurance Claimed For Broken Windows

Several Victoria insurance companies received claims yesterday from citizens who said windows of their homes were broken by gunfire of HMCS Ontario on its return Thursday from a Pacific cruise.

Naval officials however said they had "heard nothing about it."

One insurance company handled at least six claims but a spokesman said: "We're not sure. All the companies are playing cautious."

Another said: "It's like second party liability, the government of the navy, or both may be to blame."

It's not up to the newspapers to give an opinion," said an official of Crombie's insurance adjusters in refusing to say how many claims had been received.

"I don't know whether it was gunfire or peoples neighbors throwing stones."

LOUD 'BOOMS'

Sobbing Mother Freed on Abduction Charge

A 19-year-old mother expecting her third child was freed in assize court yesterday of a charge of abducting her two-year-old son from social welfare custody.

Mrs. Selby E. Galley, 881 Esquimalt, tearfully told the court she took her son, "Butch," because "he belongs to me."

The all-male jury deliberated two hours before returning a verdict.

She said she took the child on the spur of the moment.

Mrs. Galley said the Children's Aid Society took her children "without her knowledge" in July, 1955.

A juvenile court hearing was held in September when Judge J. A. Byers ordered the two children into the society's custody. It was alleged she unlawfully detained the child with intent to deprive the society on Jan. 17, when she was visiting with her son at a Queens Avenue private residence.

Describing events of Jan. 17, Mrs. Galley said she telephoned social worker William A. Scoones to arrange a visit with her child.

She was worried because she heard rumors about attempts to adopt her children without her consent. Scoones said that was not true, Mrs. Galley said.

She [illegible] social worker brought Butch into the house [illegible] to bed and settled in a chair with a book. She took the child into the kitchen and left him near a basement door for five minutes, Mrs. Galley said.

When Scoones asked about the boy, she said he was gone. He told her she was "ridiculous" but she replied she was not, the witness said.

From then until Feb. 17 the child was with her and was often downtown with her, Mrs. Galley said.

She claimed her husband was in Quebec, that he was an alcoholic and that he had deserted her.

On one visit to Scoones before the alleged occurrence, she told him she had an apartment rented and was living with a Mr. Morgan.

Defence counsel Herbert L. Matthews noted the custody order was signed by city and welfare officials but not by the mother. He told the jury that witnesses D. E. Woodsworth, society director and Scoones, each said he had not served the order upon the mother and that Judge Byers left her with the impression she would get the children back.

Mr. Matthews recalled that many "famous men have lived with other women" and cited the case of Lord Nelson and Lady Hamilton.

He said Mrs. Galley believed the Children's Aid Society was also "clearing" for the children and because she had been having trouble with the society took the son, "believing she was in perfect order."

Crown counsel Lloyd McKenzie declared that "affection is the one thing and capacity for proper parental care another."

Living without "benefit of clergy" is not accepted, he said.

The jury was told by Mr. Justice Wilson that no conviction could be recorded if it was determined that Mrs. Galley thought she had a claim in good faith when she took the child.

"I feel very sorry for this woman—and I'm sure you do—but that is not a proper basis for a verdict," he stated.

The mystery of Grace's engagement ring appeared solved. There have been repeated reports that Prince Rainier took it along when he went over to the United States, having picked it out before he even popped the question.

| 5 ♣ | Pass | 6 ♠ | All Pass |

When you are far behind in the last half of a team-of-four match your tactics must be like those of the hockey team that withdraws the goalie in order to put another possible scorer on the ice. So thought that is what influenced South's bidding of this deal against the French team in the recent World Championship at Paris.

The information that South held the card-to-make slam but prevents the jump to six spades because the opponents, of course, scores left something to be discovered. Add the small bonus for the small bonus and the six spade contract would be an excellent one.

As it was, South might have made the slam with correct guesses about the location of the spade jack and the king of hearts. Declarer started off well enough with the right guess in spades. But it didn't do him any good because he overlooked the warning implicit in the bidding.

West opened the ten of clubs. South won and led a low spade to dummy's nine. This forced the ace, but West trumped a club return and after that there was no recovery. Maybe it's because we can see all the cards but it does appear that South might have considered the abandonment of a cross-ruff and guarded against a bad distribution by planning only on the ace of diamonds before leading a trump.

On winning the spade ace, East's best plan would be to ruff down the dummy. But declarer could survive the force by coming to his hand with the high trump, overtaking the ten of hearts with dummy's jack and returning a low heart to be ruffed with South's ten of spades. Dummy's spade nine would furnish entries and the heart suit would win the rest.

At the other table the French played this deal at four hearts, scoring 10 tricks. This instead of registering 7 match points. America lost another 7.

English Films Lack Sex Pin-Up Star Complains

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The trouble with English pictures is that they lack sex appeal, says Jean Carson, provocative young British import.

"They're not interested in box-office appeal," she said. "They're interested in art. I'm all for art, but I'm also for making money. Why shouldn't I be? I've got a family to support."

Miss Carson arrived here a few weeks ago to play the part of a stripper in a recent import, Doctor at Sea. The profits, however, will go to charity. Miss Carson is the wife of Hollywood agent Milton Ebbins.

Hollywood bird-watchers or the off chance that Mamie Eisenhower's pet parrot, Mamie, would recognize her old secretaries, like Jack Moore, would never cause Ike Hoover, Jr., to lose sleep.

But now Polly Bergen has added a new twist to Doctor Mamie.

It seems Miss Bergen, in her role as Dorothy Dandridge's agent in the Hollywood scene, has to sip champagne and talk to a parrot. Director Otto Preminger told her that he was going to keep his eye on her bird, as the last time she used it in a picture, it died.

Miss Bergen replied that the last time she used a parrot in a picture, it was Ava Gardner.

Want to see yourself on television? Drop down to Eaton's store today. You can make faces at yourself in the TV camera which is on display there.

A "peeping-tom" camera has been installed on the third floor along with monitors which record the scene which passes in front of the lens. Visitors will be invited to appear on the TV screens.

There is no use watching for the proceedings on your home screen, however, it is a "closed-circuit" deal—only the TV sets on the floor will pick up the action.

TV REPAIRS — Recently this column exposed a TV repair racket which was swindling hundreds of viewers who had minor television repairs made after normal business hours especially over the weekend. One or two "gyppo" artists were charging impatient TV fans up to $60 for small repairs. At least one of the culprits has left town since the racket was exposed, and the situation brought under control by the householders themselves. Unfortunately some of the smaller TV men are feeling the pinch: since the publicity, set-owners are reluctant to trust servicemen who work from their homes.

Which is unfortunate, because Victoria has quite a few one-man service depots which can be relied upon to give good TV service.

But the stories helped these technicians, too. "We don't have any trouble collecting an honest $8 or $10 repair bill any more," one serviceman said.

Army Goes on the Air

The Canadian army's radio station at Fort Victoria, near Werl, Germany, this month began broadcasting programs for the 10,000 Canadian troops and their families serving in Germany.

Producer-announcer Andre Hebert, former Montreal CBC television announcer, works in a control room of the station.—(CP from National Defence.)

$20,000 Grant to PNE Fulfils Cabinet Promise

Grant of $20,000 to the Pacific National Exhibition to help defray the expenses of last November's Grey Cup football game in Vancouver's Empire Stadium, yesterday won cabinet approval.

A government spokesman said it was "the implementation of a promise" by the provincial government that it would give financial assistance to help meet the costs of bringing the game to Vancouver.

PNE authorities provided Empire Stadium to the Canadian Rugby Union rent free.

House Hunters Get 'Sitter' Fees

OTTAWA (CP) — A limited amount of baby-sitting fees will be paid by the federal government for families hunting homes in connection with the National Film Board's move from Ottawa to Montreal.

The board, informants said today, got special permission from the treasury board to allow up to $20 per family for sitters.

In advance of moving to Montreal, employees are being allowed expenses for two weekend trips there to look for homes. For each of the two-day trips, they are allowed $5 a day for sitters.

The employees are taken to Montreal in groups by chartered bus.

The time they spend on such trips will be deducted from the maximum time government employees are given living allowances while looking for new homes after a transfer. These now are 21 days for persons with dependents and 10 days for those without dependents.

About 500 persons are involved in the transfer. Officials said some 25 stenographers and clerks have declined to make the move, mostly married women.

Defiance, Patience Pay Off

MONTREAL (CP) — Patience paid off Thursday for Louis Drabo.

The deadpan old Iroquois farmer, who defied St. Lawrence Seaway construction thundering around his doorstep, received a compensation cheque worth $70,426 to cover his expropriated 6-acre farm.

Mr Drabo, 79, his wife, 69, and several other Indians from the nearby Caughnawaga reserve were handed cheques by president Lasalle Chevrier of the St Lawrence Seaway Authority for property required in its construction.

ROCKED BY DYNAMITE

Mr Drabo's share was by far the biggest and in some ways he appeared to have earned it.

The old folk stuck tight in their farm house last month while excavation machinery got closer. Daily Peroxite dynamite blasts rocked the area. Their wood supply was nearly exhausted and Mrs. Drabo had to carry water two miles when the well went dry.

They refused to move until they got what they considered a fair price. The $70,000 turned out to be a 6,900 per cent profit. Mr Drabo also disclosed through an interpreter that he had paid $1,000 for the property 54 years ago when he married.

No Boundary Set

Chamber May Seek Wider Capital Plan

Inclusion of Colwood, Langford Glen Lake and View Royal within the new Capital Improvement District may be asked by the recently-formed Colwood and Districts Chamber of Commerce.

A chamber committee headed by former mayor Claude Harrison met behind closed doors after a general meeting this week to consider drafting a request to the provincial government.

The Capital Improvement District Commission Act which was passed in the final days of the recent legislative session does not set a definite boundary to the jurisdiction of the commission.

TIME TO TIME

The act states that the lieutenant-governor in council may from time to time designate an area "within and in the district surrounding the city of Victoria to be known as the Capital Improvement District."

The general meeting voted approval of a suggested plan to take over and develop the old race track property for exhibitions, horse racing and other sporting and community projects.

But B.C. Agricultural Association and Island Turf Club officials did not appear enthusiastic over the Colwood chamber's plan for the old race track.

NEGOTIATIONS UNDER WAY

"We have been negotiating for that property for over a year. To the best of my knowledge no representation has been made to us," Art Cox, vice-president of the BCAA told The Daily Colonist.

"We understood from the BCAA that they were going to get the property. We have been dealing with them," Stanley Hessian, secretary of the Island Turf Club said.

"We are interested in having more racing in British Columbia," he added and emphasized that the group was still greatly interested in the Beaver Lake Park lake site.

MANY LANGUAGES

The constitution of India recognizes 14 languages including Hindi as the official language.

Oils Join Coppers In Advance

TORONTO (CP) — The stock market closed out the week with an advance to another record high Friday. Selected medium-priced copper stocks were in demand with gains ranging to more than $1. A handful of western oils advanced smartly.

Refining oils were the backbone of the industrial advance. In papers, steels, utilities, liquors and financial institutions there were a few more gains than losses. Steico gained $2 at $74.25 after news of substantially higher earnings. The Bank of Commerce was up $1.75 at $52.75.

Algoma headed the losers with a $3 decline at $111. Canadian Locomotive dipped $2 at $33 and Canada Wire B $1.87 at $98. Opemiska starred among the coppers with a $1.05 jump to a high of $11.

Merrill led a strong group of western oils with an 87-cent advance to a new high of $20. Consolidated West Pete climbed 40 to $9.15. Canadian Williston 35 to $3.50, and Del Rio 31 to $2.45.

Imperial Oil Higher

MONTREAL (CP) — Industrial prices were mixed to slightly higher at the close of active trading Friday on the Montreal and Canadian stock exchanges.

In a firm beverage section, Walker added a point and Seagram ⅝. Imperial improved a point in the refining oils and Bell ¼ in the utilities.

Base metals were mixed as Noranda gained ⅝ and International Nickel ¼ while Hudson Bay and Aluminium lost ⅛ each. In the steels, Stelco climbed 1⅝ and Atlas a point.

Powell River gained ⅞, Abitibi ¼ and Great Lakes ⅛ in the papers. Brown eased ⅝ and Consolidated ¼. Commerce headed the banks with a 1⅝ point rise. Canada Cement lost ⅝ in the constructions.

London Prices Firm

LONDON (Reuters)—The stock market was quiet but the undertone was satisfactory with sentiment helped by chancellor of the exchequer Harold Macmillan's statement that the government intends to overcome inflation.

The gilt-edged securities were in quiet demand and fractional gains were made. Canadian Pacific was firm in rails, and other transatlantic issues were adjusted into line with Thursday's Wall Street levels.

Industrials were in selective demand. In newsprints, Bowaters was higher. Elsewhere British Aluminium was strong on news from Canada of new developments for use of aluminum in the electrical-equipment industry.

Other grains also advanced but did not match the gains in new crop wheat.

Wheat closed 1 to 5⅛ higher, May 2.27-27⅛; corn ⅝-1⅜ higher, May 1.40⅛-⅝; oats ¼-½ higher, May 64⅝; rye ⅞-1⅝ higher, May 1.30⅞, and soybeans 1 to 3⅝ higher, May 2.65½-⅝.

Guinea Missionary Here

Moslems Give Christians Competition for Converts

By DAVID FRANCIS

Christian missionaries working among a pagan French Guinea tribe still practicing human sacrifice, face serious competition for converts from Moslems, a blonde young native of Winnipeg said yesterday.

Rev. Ralph Shellrude, who returned a year ago from four years among the Kissi tribe in French Guinea, a country to the west of the Gold Coast, is in Victoria for the annual missionary conference of Victoria Alliance Tabernacle.

Mohammedism, he said, has a definite advantage over Christianity, in that "each and every Moslem considers it his responsibility before Allah to propagate his religion.

"This is a tremendous force," he said. "Can you imagine the effect if every Christian had the same idea?"

Christianity is handicapped by the necessity of using white missionaries, while Moslem missionaries are colored.

Christian missionaries in some parts of Africa have associated so closely with colonial administration that increasingly nationalistic natives regard Chrisitanity and colonialism as birds of a feather.

Ironically, Christianity is partly responsible for growing nationalism with its teaching that all men, black and white, are equal before God, he said.

AFRICANS BEING TRAINED

However, African ministers and leaders are being trained to take over the church in event white missionaries are forced to leave.

"We are working to establish African churches in Africa, not Canadian churches in Africa."

Sacrifice of animals and polygamy, both Kissi practices, are tolerated by Moslems but not by Christianity, he said.

Most Kissi men, he said, have three wives or more and experience "less trouble with three than men in Canada have with one."

The women are so busy working in the fields, cooking meals and caring for their common husband, that they have no time to quarrel and enjoy each other's company, he said.

The French administration "a good one," he said, has not been unable to wipe out human sacrifice in one section of the country.

Rev. Shellrude speaks at 11 a.m. tomorrow in Victoria Alliance Tabernacle. He will be joined Monday for the week-long conference by a missionary from India, Rev. Roland Perret, and one from French West Africa, Rev. Nathan Ost.

'Ivan the Terrible' in Hot Water: Boilermakers Hammer Malenkov

LONDON (Reuters) — Two top Russian visitors to Britain found themselves in hot water Friday night—one because he is disliked on principle and the other because he insulted the country's boilermakers.

Ever since he arrived here Thursday, Gen. Ivan Serov, the Russian security chief, has been subject to press abuse which shows no signs of moderating.

A sidewalk interview with reporters won him no respite from the title "Ivan the terrible."

Friday night, when he returned to the Soviet embassy after talks with British police and a visit to Claridges hotel, he declined further meetings with the press. His visit to the hotel, frequent stopping-place of royalty, indicates that rooms are being reserved there for Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Nikita Khrushchev, the Communist party chief, when they come to London next month.

RAP FOR "MALLY"

Georgi Malenkov Soviet minister of power stations who has been touring Britain, continued to win cheers of "good old Mally" as he made the rounds of mid-England factories, but was reprimanded sharply by the head of the Boilermakers' Association.

Thursday, while visiting a Derbyshire power plant, Malenkov said it took Britain 18 months to build a power station. It has been erected in Russia in four months.

"I want to say that there are no finer workmen in this world than the British boilermakers," thundered K. J. McKillop, association director.

TORONTO (CP) — The Canadian Tribune, Toronto Communist weekly, says disclosures of the Stalin-deflation campaign in Russia have come as a shock to many Canadians.

Conspiracy Claimed

Socred Dares 'Anyone' To Charge Sommers

VANCOUVER (CP)—A challenge to "anyone, anywhere" to lay a formal charge against R. E. Sommers was issued Friday night by Thomas Bate, Social Credit MLA for Vancouver-Point Grey.

Mr. Sommers, former lands and forests minister and minister of mines, resigned his portfolios shortly after allegations were made against him by Vancouver lawyer David Sturdy.

Mr. Bate said at a meeting the dare to lay formal court charges against his party mate would never be taken because there was no basis to the case.

"I am more convinced than ever that this is all part of a planned campaign to smear and belittle the ministers of the Crown and this government," he said.

Mr. Sommers, MLA for Rossland-Trail, resigned his portfolios claiming conspiracy against him.

He said, in resigning: "Never at any time have I used my position as minister of the Crown for personal gain."

Finlayson Dooms Socreds

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP)—The Social Credit party, Deane Finlayson said Friday, will not last.

Mr. Finlayson, leader of the B.C. Progressive Conservative party, said at a luncheon meeting here the future of the Socred party "is not as . . . bright as it appeared a year ago."

The Progressive Conservatives have undergone a "house cleaning" and are now a more united group than any other party in Canada, Mr. Finlayson said.

"The Social Crediters need terrific funds to keep in motion. These funds will not be available once these businesses that have been making capital expenditures have settled down to production.

"Time will reveal that some businesses and corporations in this province are compelled to pay a tribute to this government," he said.

Britain In Flurry

London Announces New War Plan Ready

LONDON (AP)—Britain disclosed Friday it has received secret information that a considerable number of Egyptian army officers and men are being trained by Russian military experts in Communist Poland.

A foreign office spokesman said the information must be considered in determining British Middle East policy.

At the same time Britain announced a new plan for swift action in the Middle East should war break out.

The Egyptian embassy here had no comment.

Other disclosures in government quarters suggested Egypt's military agreements with states of the Communist bloc are far-reaching. It was said that not only has Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser received large quantities of military equipment from Red Czechoslovakia but that expert training in the use of new weapons, at home and abroad, is fast making the Egyptian Army a formidable force.

At the foreign office it also was said that Czechoslovakia has set up a training centre for Egyptian pilots near Alexandria, Egypt.

LONDON (UP)—Britain formally announced Friday it has prepared a plan for swift military action in the Middle East in event of war between the Arabs and Israelis.

Disclosure of the "stand-by" plan was the firmest notice yet given by a western power that an Arab or Israeli aggression would be met by western force.

The British foreign office announcement of readiness to intervene was seen here as a measure of the gravity with which the western Big Three regard the Middle East war danger.

"We have worked out a plan which could be put rapidly into action when it is decided to do so," a foreign office spokesman said.

"It is hoped that action, if necessary, could be taken within the United Nations."

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Big Three western foreign ministers will meet in Paris in May to plan joint strategy for dealing with the Middle East crisis, diplomatic sources reported yesterday.

The talks are expected to centre mainly on what action the western allies should take if the Arab-Israel dispute erupts into full-scale war.

A 1950 declaration commits the United States, Britain and France to guard both the Arabs and Israelis against aggression by the other.

LONDON (AP)—Britain said Friday it will continue to support Jordan's armed forces and bolster the Arab kingdom's economy in 1956-57.

There had been speculation that Prime Minister Eden's government might cut off its subsidies to Jordan in retaliation for King Hussein's dismissal of British Lt.-Gen. Sir John Glubb as commander of Jordan's army, the Arab Legion, March 1.

But foreign office civil estimates published yesterday disclosed a grant in aid to Jordan of £9,158,000, mainly for the Arab Legion and the Jordan home guard. The sum is £42,000 less than Britain gave Jordan for the same purpose last year.

NELSON BULLOCH

One of the brightest stars for Victoria Cougars last night when they defeated the Canucks at Vancouver, 3-2, to take the lead in the round-robin playoff series in the Western Division of the Western Hockey League was Nelson Bulloch. The rookie defenceman scored one goal, set up the other two, and almost clicked several other times. "You should have seen that Bulloch go," Cougar-coach Eddie Olson said after the game.

One Badly Hurt

School Bus Hurls Boys From Door

LAKE COWICHAN—An eight-year-old Honeymoon Bay boy was seriously injured and another slightly hurt yesterday after they were thrown to the road when the emergency door of their school bus suddenly popped open.

Bobby Gunderson, suffering from an "extensive skull fracture," and his companion, Billy Janyk, 8, also of Honeymoon Bay, were thrown from the bus on South Shore road two miles west of Lake Cowichan on their way home from school.

RCMP at Lake Cowichan said the bus, carrying more than 30 children, did not appear to be going very fast at the time.

The pair were sitting beside the emergency door on the left rear of the bus when it flew open.

Officials at King's Daughters' Hospital at Duncan described the Gunderson boy's condition as critical late last night. The Janyk boy was treated for abrasions and shock and later released.

Court Order Halts Hypnotic Love Spell

A divorced husband who hired a woman hypnotist to help him win back his beautiful wife lost out here yesterday when the wife won a Supreme Court ruling ordering the man and the hypnotist to stop interfering with her.

The court order was granted after presentation of startling evidence that the wife "apparently in a trance" was being led to a phone to speak to the husband when a private detective burst into the hypnotist's heavily perfumed hotel room and shattered the trance with a kiss.

Soon after, the hypnotist, Mrs. Dorothy Westlake of Vancouver, nearly hypnotized a policeman called in to investigate the matter.

Mrs. Helen E. Cooper, 887 Cowper, was granted an order restraining Thomas A. Cooper, of Vancouver, and Mrs. Westlake, from "interfering or committing trespass in any way" by themselves or their agents.

AFFIDAVITS FILED

Mrs. Cooper, divorced from her husband in 1951 and given custody of two children, filed affidavits on behalf of herself, private investigator Conrad Watling, 2040 Chaucer, who posed as her boy friend, and Saanich policeman Robin Stewart.

The affidavits related experiences that began for Mrs. Cooper over a cup of coffee with Mrs. Westlake and ended in the perfumed third floor Empress Hotel room March 13.

The affidavits were filed by counsel David Sloan. Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson granted the requested injunction.

Since the divorce her husband has continually annoyed her by telephone calls and by calls through people in his employ, "particularly Mrs. D. Westlake," Mrs. Cooper said in her affidavit.

On March 13 a blond woman entered the store where Mrs. Cooper is employed, identifying herself as a hypnotist from Toronto who wanted to buy furniture.

HYPNOTIST'S STORY

Mrs. Westlake said: "A friend had suggested that if she was in Victoria she should contact Miss ——, my maiden name and the one I work under at the store," Mrs. Cooper said.

Over a cup of coffee they arranged to further discuss a furniture deal in Mrs. Westlake's hotel room that night, with the latter requesting she come alone, Mrs. Cooper added.

"I felt something was not right," she said in her affidavit. Investigator Watling was called to check the story and found that the woman had arrived by

Free Asia Red Bar Says Dulles

WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said last night the United States must help Asian nations in their fight for freedom and independence if it does not want Communists to take over.

Warning that Russia and Red China are "stirring up hatred" in Asia, Dulles said he is convinced that freedom will prevail in the Far East if "we worthily play our part." He called for increased U.S. efforts to industrialize free Asian nations.

Dulles spoke out strongly against "colonialism." He said Asians are determined that their future lies in "independence, not domination."

The "clearest single impression" from his trip was that Asia wants United States help along the road to freedom and independence." He said they seek a "protective umbrella" against Red aggression—without any taint of colonialism.

Dulles said Formosa presents the greatest threat of open warfare "at the moment."

Meanwhile in Washington, The Netherlands complained to the state department about statements made by Dulles last week in Indonesia.

Dulles, in a press conference there, expressed sympathy for the young republic of Indonesia, and The Netherlands interpreted his remarks as anti-Dutch.

Dutch ambassador J. H. Van Roijen registered his government's shock at Dulles' statements.

Unconscious Road Victim Still Critical

Four-year-old Doreen Sanders, 236 Cadillac, was still unconscious and in critical condition in Royal Jubilee Hospital late last night.

She was injured in a collision with a car last Sunday outside Centennial United church on Gorge road.

Bomb Plea Rejected

WASHINGTON (UP) — The United States last night rejected a Japanese plea that it suspend its forthcoming atomic tests in the Pacific.

In a formal note to Japan, the state department said the U.S. is convinced the tests "are vital to its own defence and the free world."

It agreed, however, to give "further consideration" to compensation if any official evidence is received after the tests of "substantial economic losses" by Japan or any of its people.

The Japanese request was prompted by results of the big hydrogen bomb test explosion March 1, 1954, in which more than a score of Japanese fishermen were dusted with radioactive "fallout." One of them later died.

Missing Fliers

FO GERALD STUBBS

FO JAMES E. MILLER

Force of 500 Men Seeks Lost Airmen

Some 500 land, sea and air searchers will step up operations in northern part of the Strait of Georgia today in hopes of finding two airmen, one from Victoria, who vanished in their T-33 jet trainer Thursday.

Planes, ships and ground workers covered more than 8,000 square miles from Vancouver Island to the mainland yesterday, concentrating on Cortes Island, where 12 persons heard a loud explosion Thursday morning.

Missing are FO James E. Miller, 23, former Victorian and son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Miller, 1207 Union road, and FO Gerald Stubbs, 32, formerly of Winnipeg. Their plane vanished during a routine training flight.

Sqdn. Ldr. George Shehan of the Comox air base, search leader, said 11 RCAF aircraft from Vancouver and five from Comox would divide their time today between strait islands and mainland and Vancouver Island points 100 miles apart.

Air force air and ground crews will number more than 200 men. Another 100 men will take part in the sea hunt and the Ground Observer Corps has sent 100 persons for land searches.

Historians Hit By Red Army

MOSCOW (Reuters)—The Soviet Army newspaper Red Star Friday attacked "the vicious and harmful practice" of Russian war historians in "exaggerating successes and concealing shortcomings in actions of Soviet troops."

Defence Cuts Predicted As Pre-Election Dodge

OTTAWA (CP) — A CCF member predicted in the Commons Friday that next year — when a federal general election is expected—the government will make "a very large" cut in defence spending.

"And we shall be told then, of course," said Colin Cameron, Nanaimo, "that there has been a tremendous change in the international climate."

"We shall be told that the cold war is warming up."

Mr. Cameron said Britain now is facing the fact it is impossible for her to develop effective defences.

"Her only hope is to develop a real and effective disarmament program in the world." Canada might find herself in the same position.

Mr. Cameron joined J. M. Macdonnell, Progressive Conservative financial critic, and CCF leader Coldwell in criticizing defence spending during debate on the new budget.

The budget outlined last Tuesday night by Finance Minister Harris was "singularly devoid of information," Mr. Cameron said.

He suspected, too, Mr. Harris was aware that within the next year Dr. O. M. Solandt, former chairman of the Defence Research Board, "or some other eminent person will put another banana peel underneath the defence program of Canada."

He apparently referred to Dr. Solandt's recent statement that intercontinental ballistics missiles will obviate the three early warning radar lines now being built across this country by Canada and the United States. Dr. Solandt said the missile likely would be developed effectively within 15 years.

Mr. Cameron said this "banana peel" would disclose that "all these incredible quantities of money and labor that we have been dedicating to defence are, in fact, money and effort down the drain."

'The Truth About Bridey' Begins Tomorrow

Early this year, a series of articles on "The Search for Bridey Murphy" had readers of The Daily Colonist talking about hypnotism and reincarnation.

Later, as a book by Morey Bernstein, Bridey Murphy shot through eight printings and more than 170,000 copies, and 30,000 long-playing records of the actual tape recordings made by Mr. Bernstein and "Bridey" (Mrs. Ruth Simmons) have been sold.

In addition Hollywood has bought the book for $50,000; and hardly a comedy program on television is complete without some joke about Bridey Murphy.

Now an outstanding newspaper reporter, William J. Barker of The Denver Post, is back from Ireland and his own search for Bridey Murphy.

His series of articles, "The Truth About Bridey Murphy," begins tomorrow in The Sunday Colonist.

There is also good reading set for The Islander, Sunday magazine of the Colonist.

Featured article is the three-page story of the School of Music at HMCS Naden, where all RCN bandsmen are trained.

Cecil Clark tells the interesting story of the cattle and horse brands of British Columbia's own "West," a type of heraldry that goes far back into the province's history.

G. E. Mortimore's profile subject, and an interesting one, too, is Major Carl Pallas. Another highlight of the 18-page Island magazine is the article on the Horseshoe Bay Inn at Chemainus, where such interesting tycoons as Rockefeller and Carnegie have been guests.

The daily paper with complete news and feature coverage, the magazine, and the 16-page comic supplement make a perfect 66-page package of weekend reading.

RCMP at Lake Cowichan said the bus, carrying more than 30 children, did not appear to be going very fast at the time.

The pair were sitting beside the emergency door on the left rear of the bus when it flew open.

Officials at King's Daughters' Hospital at Duncan described the Gunderson boy's condition as critical late last night. The Janyk boy was treated for abrasions and shock and later released.

City Woman Wins . . . . . Freedom from Trances

Court Order Halts Hypnotic Love Spell

A divorced husband who hired a woman hypnotist to help him win back his beautiful wife lost out here yesterday when the wife won a Supreme Court ruling ordering the man and the hypnotist to stop interfering with her.

The court order was granted after presentation of startling evidence that the wife "apparently in a trance" was being led to a phone to speak to the husband when a private detective burst into the hypnotist's heavily perfumed hotel room and shattered the trance with a kiss.

Soon after, the hypnotist, Mrs. Dorothy Westlake of Vancouver, nearly hypnotized a policeman called in to investigate the matter.

Mrs. Helen E. Cooper, 887 Cowper, was granted an order restraining Thomas A. Cooper, of Vancouver, and Mrs. Westlake, from "interfering or committing trespass in any way" by themselves or their agents.

AFFIDAVITS FILED

Mrs. Cooper, divorced from her husband in 1951 and given custody of two children, filed affidavits on behalf of herself, private investigator Conrad Watling, 2040 Chaucer, who posed as her boy friend, and Saanich policeman Robin Stewart.

The affidavits related experiences that began for Mrs. Cooper over a cup of coffee with Mrs. Westlake and ended in the perfumed third floor Empress Hotel room March 13.

The affidavits were filed by counsel David Sloan. Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson granted the requested injunction.

Since the divorce her husband has continually annoyed her by telephone calls and by calls through people in his employ, "particularly Mrs. D. Westlake," Mrs. Cooper said in her affidavit.

On March 13 a blond woman entered the store where Mrs. Cooper is employed, identifying herself as a hypnotist from Toronto who wanted to buy furniture.

HYPNOTIST'S STORY

Mrs. Westlake said: "A friend had suggested that if she was in Victoria she should contact Miss ——, my maiden name and the one I work under at the store," Mrs. Cooper said.

Over a cup of coffee they arranged to further discuss a furniture deal in Mrs. Westlake's hotel room that night, with the latter requesting she come alone, Mrs. Cooper added.

"I felt something was not right," she said in her affidavit. Investigator Watling was called to check the story and found that the woman had arrived by

Free Asia Red Bar Says Dulles

WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said last night the United States must help Asian nations in their fight for freedom and independence if it does not want Communists to take over.

Warning that Russia and Red China are "stirring up hatred" in Asia, Dulles said he is convinced that freedom will prevail in the Far East if "we worthily play our part." He called for increased U.S. efforts to industrialize free Asian nations.

Dulles spoke out strongly against "colonialism." He said Asians are determined that their future lies in "independence, not domination."

The "clearest single impression" from his trip was that Asia wants United States help along the road to freedom and independence," he said they seek a "protective umbrella" against Red aggression—without any taint of colonialism.

Dulles said Formosa presents the greatest threat of open warfare "at the moment."

Meanwhile in Washington, The Netherlands complained to the state department about statements made by Dulles last week in Indonesia.

Dulles, in a press conference there, expressed sympathy for the young republic of Indonesia, and The Netherlands interpreted his remarks as anti-Dutch.

Dutch ambassador J. H. Van Roijen registered his government's shock at Dulles' statements.

Unconscious Road Victim Still Critical

Four-year-old Doreen Sanders, 236 Cadillac, was still unconscious and in critical condition in Royal Jubilee Hospital late last night.

She was injured in a collision with a car last Sunday outside Centennial United church on Gorge road

Historians Hit By Red Army

MOSCOW (Reuters)—The Soviet Army newspaper Red Star Friday attacked "the vicious and harmful practice" of Russian war historians in "exaggerating successes and concealing shortcomings in actions of Soviet troops."

Bomb Plea Rejected

WASHINGTON (UP) — The United States last night rejected a Japanese plea that it suspend its forthcoming atomic tests in the Pacific.

In a formal note to Japan, the state department said the U.S. is convinced the tests "are vital to its own defence and the free world."

It agreed, however, to give "further consideration" to compensation if any official evidence is received after the tests of "substantial economic losses" by Japan or any of its people.

The Japanese request was prompted by results of the big hydrogen bomb test explosion March 1, 1954, in which more than a score of Japanese fishermen were dusted with radioactive "fallout." One of them later died.

Force of 500 Men Seeks Lost Airmen

Some 500 land, sea and air searchers will step up operations in northern part of the Strait of Georgia today in hopes of finding two airmen, one from Victoria, who vanished in their T-33 jet trainer Thursday.

Planes, ships and ground workers covered more than 8,000 square miles from Vancouver Island to the mainland yesterday, concentrating on Cortez Island, where 12 persons heard a loud explosion Thursday morning.

Missing are FO James E. Miller, 23, former Victorian and son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Miller, 1207 Union road, and FO Gerald Stubbs, 32, formerly of Winnipeg. Their plane vanished during a routine training flight.

Sqdn. Ldr. George Shehan of the Comox air base, search leader, said 11 RCAF aircraft from Vancouver and five from Comox would divide their time today between strait islands, and mainland and Vancouver Island points 100 miles apart.

Air force air and ground crews will number more than 200 men. Another 100 men will take part in the sea hunt and the Ground Observer Corps has sent 100 persons for land searches.

Icy Valor Saves Dog From Death

GLACE BAY, N. S. (CP)—A dog strayed out on Glace Bay harbor drift ice, became trapped between ice cakes and thrashed about in the water until exhausted.

Bystanders watched as policemen Urban Brown and Bernie Clarke prepared to shoot the helpless animal.

Then fisherman Tom Chislett, disdaining the protests of onlookers, took off his shirt.

He walked over the ice until it broke under him, swam in bone-chilling water to the floundering dog and brought it ashore.

Defence Cuts Predicted As Pre-Election Dodge

OTTAWA (CP) — A CCF member predicted in the Commons Friday that next year — when a federal general election is expected—the government will make "a very large" cut in defence spending.

"And we shall be told then, of course," said Colin Cameron, Nanaimo, "that there has been a tremendous change in the international climate."

"We shall be told that the cold war is warming up."

Mr. Cameron said Britain now is facing the fact it is impossible for her to develop effective defences.

"Her only hope is to develop a real and effective disarmament program in the world." Canada might find herself in the same position.

Mr. Cameron joined J. M. Macdonnell, Progressive Conservative financial critic, and CCF leader Coldwell in criticizing defence spending during debate on the new budget.

The budget outlined last Tuesday night by Finance Minister Harris was "singularly devoid of information," Mr. Cameron said.

He suspected, too, Mr. Harris was aware that within the next year Dr. O. M. Solandt, former chairman of the Defence Research Board, "or some other eminent person will put another banana peel underneath the defence program of Canada."

He apparently referred to Dr. Solandt's recent statement that intercontinental ballistics missiles will obviate the three early warning radar lines now being built across this country by Canada and the United States. Dr. Solandt said the missile likely would be developed effectively within 15 years.

Mr. Cameron said this "banana peel" would disclose that "all these incredible quantities of money and labor that we have been dedicating to defence are, in fact, money and effort down the drain."

Reds Reported Busy In Canada's Forces

VANCOUVER (CP) — Labor leader Tom Alsbury told an audience of RCAF personnel here Thursday night that communists are carrying on subversive activities within the Canadian armed forces "at this very moment."

Mr. Alsbury, president of Vancouver Trades and Labor Council (TLC) and principal of Fairview high school of commerce, was speaking at Sea Island RCAF station. He said:

"Communists carried on subversive activities in the Canadian army in the Second World War. Of that we have ample proof. And they are doing it this very minute.

"If war or some other national emergency comes, the Reds are ready to fight on two major fronts—military and industrial.

"The Reds have penetrated the Canadian armed forces where party members are already in uniform, taking instructions directly from the party and reporting secretly their progress and successes."

Mr. Alsbury said these were not merely his opinions, but could be verified in official records.

Time Running Out On Escaped Klaus

WINNIPEG (CP) — Residents of suburban St. James are going out in full force in an effort to capture Klaus, the crazy crow that has been on the loose since last Sunday.

Klaus' owner, Mrs. Edith Rasmussen, said she was worried about reports that her pet has started to swear at district residents, something "we certainly never taught him to do. I don't know where he learned to swear."

With her husband Hans, daughter Karen, 16, and friends and neighbors, she will attempt to capture the bird that has been hanging around a St. James school since it left home.

A truck and ladder will be used in the operation.

Sunday Colonist Carries

'The Truth About Bridey' Begins Tomorrow

Reports of Irish Probe

Early this year, a series of articles on "The Search for Bridey Murphy" had readers of The Daily Colonist talking about hypnotism and reincarnation.

Later, as a book by Morey Bernstein, Bridey Murphy shot through eight printings and more than 170,000 copies, and 30,000 long-playing records of the actual tape recordings made by Mr. Bernstein and "Bridey" (Mrs. Ruth Simmons) have been sold.

In addition Hollywood has bought the book for $50,000; and hardly a comedy program on television is complete without some joke about Bridey Murphy.

Now an outstanding newspaper reporter, William J. Barker of The Denver Post, is back from Ireland and his own search for Bridey Murphy.

His series of articles, "The Truth About Bridey Murphy," begins tomorrow in The Sunday Colonist.

There is also good reading set for The Islander, Sunday magazine of the Colonist.

Featured article is the three-page story of the School of Music at HMCS Naden, where all RCN bandsmen are trained.

Cecil Clark tells the interesting story of the cattle and horse brands of British Columbia's own "West," a type of heraldry that goes far back into the province's history.

G. E. Mortimore's profile subject, and an interesting one, too, is Major Carl Fallen. Another highlight of the 16-page Island magazine is the article on the Horseshoe Bay Inn at Chemainus, where such interesting tycoons as Rockefeller and Carnegie have been guests.

The daily paper with complete news and feature coverage, the magazine, and the 16-page comic supplement make a perfect 66-page package of weekend reading.
